GREAT COAST LINE MERGER WILL BE SPLIT IN TWAIN AND THE ASSETS DIVIDED

ACTION OF DIRECTORS MEANS DISSOLUTION OF HOLDING COMPANY

Chairman Walters Proposes to Retain Same Voice in Management of the Three Railroads as Before--Stockholders to Meet to Pass on Dissolution Proposal.

New York, January 15.—The Atlantic Coast Line railway, a Connecticut corporation holding control of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, and through it control of the Louisville and Nashville and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, is to be split in two by a distribution of a large part of its assets, according to action decided upon at a meeting of Coast Line directors in this city today.

Merger Formed in 1889.

The Connecticut company was formed in 1889 to hold a controlling interest in the Atlantic Coast Line railroad and securities in other companies. It owns $33,150,000, or more than half of the Coast Line's $58,745,000 of stock, and other securities, mostly bonds of a market value of $45,880,000. It has an authorized capitalization of $100,000,000, but only $17,640,000 of this has been issued. This stock never has been widely distributed and it is understood virtually all of the shares are held by Henry Walters, chairman of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad.

Stockholders to Meet.

The stockholders shortly will be called together to approve a proposal that half of the Coast Line company stock, of $8,820,000, be extinguished by the return to holders of twice that amount of Coast Line railroad shares, or $17,640,000. This will leave $15,510,000 of the railroad's stock in the Connecticut company's treasury, thus returning control of the railroad to its own shareholders.

As Mr. Walters will get back the stock he put into the holding company's treasury he will have the same voice in the management of the three roads as before.

He would not make any comment today on the breaking up of the Connecticut company beyond saying that no further distribution of its assets was contemplated at this time.

ALL HOPE ABANDONED FOR COL. C. R. PENDLETON

Doctors Expect Death of Veteran Editor May Occur Any Moment.

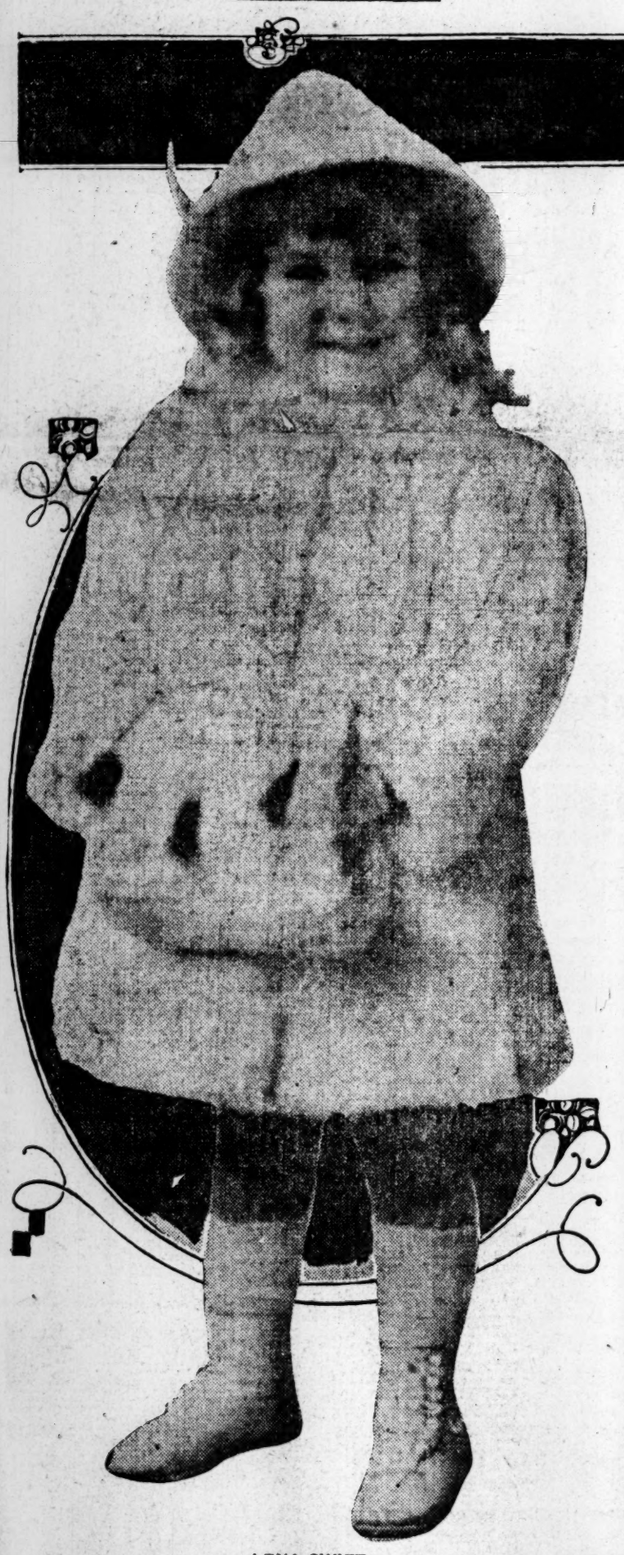

Macon, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—All hope has been abandoned by physicians for the recovery of C. R. Pendleton and at 9 o'clock tonight they were awaiting the end.

His family is at his bedside tonight, some of them having arrived today from Pennsylvania. They were summoned this afternoon to the private sanitarium here and told that he would live but a few hours.

Attending physicians say that his temperate habits throughout his life and his remarkable constitution have been responsible for his surviving the past few days since acute Bright's disease developed.

At midnight doctors said that the veteran editor could live only a few hours at the most.

Dainty Little Girl Again To Be Center of Legal War

LENA SWIFT,

Granddaughter of Mrs. Lena Swift, whose mother, Mrs. Jacques Bradley Swift, willed to her sister. The picture was taken by Lomax shortly after Christmas and the chorus-girl mother liked it best of all.

Mrs. Lena Swift Huntley, wealthy paternal grandmother of 3-year-old Lena Swift, refused Thursday to discuss what steps she and her son, Charles Thomas Swift, to gain possession to her granddaughter.

"I have nothing to say," Mrs. Huntley said when questioned. "My son is out of the city."

Authentic reports are to the effect that Mrs. Huntley will lead the fight of her son for the possession of little Lena.

News from Washington is that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wendall, of No. 1234 Maryland avenue, to whom Mrs. Jacques Bradley Swift willed the child, have made arrangements for keeping the child. Mrs. Wendall is a sister of the child's dead mother, and she and her husband declare that they will fight to the bitter end for custody of the baby girl.

In a separation suit with her husband, Mrs. Swift, mother of little Lena, gave up a settlement of $30,000 to retain possession of the baby girl, and one of her last acts was to will the baby to her sister and brother-in-law to be raised and cared for by them.

Considerable interest is centered in developments which will follow. Just what the father, with the backing of his wealthy mother, will do to regain possession of the baby, is a matter for which friends on both sides of the family are waiting with interest. It is believed among friends of Mrs. Huntley that an effort will be made to bring the child back to Atlanta.

The body of her mother will be interred Friday in Glenn Park cemetery, Washington.

DEATH CALLS GRIFFITH IN ALL ANGELS CHURCH

New York, January 15.—A man believed to be the Henry Walton Griffith, of Philadelphia, secretary of the Norfolk and Western railroad, died suddenly tonight in All Angels Protestant Episcopal church here. Cards bearing Mr. Griffith's name and an income tax receipt made out to him furnished the means of identification. The body was removed to a police station.

Mr. Griffith was attending a concert in the church, having come here from Philadelphia today for that purpose. He was seated in a rear pew, and John Irving, a New Yorker, who sat beside him, said Mr. Griffith complained several times during the concert that he felt ill. Towards the close of the entertainment he collapsed. A physician was summoned, but before he reached the sick man's side, Mr. Griffith was dead. Death was attributed to heart failure.

Fearful of Weak Heart.

Philadelphia, January 15.—Henry Walton Griffith went to New York tonight to attend a concert at the All Angels Protestant Episcopal church. Recently he had been complaining of not feeling well and was fearful of a weak heart. His sister with whom he lived here said she had been advised of his death by telephone and did not think there was any doubt in the identification.

Mr. Griffith was secretary of the Norfolk and Western railroad and a member of several clubs in this city. He was 56 years old and unmarried.

ATLANTA INDORSED BY FORTY CITIES

The total number of cities backing Atlanta for the regional reserve banking center of the southeastern states on Thursday reached an aggregate of forty. In addition to these, 145 individual banks have done likewise.

This array of cities and banks, the members of the joint committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and the Atlanta Clearing House association believe shows a wonderful sentiment in Atlanta's favor, which cannot help but spread.

It is expected that this sentiment will be crystallized at the dinner which the Atlanta Clearing House association will tender to the bankers of Georgia at the Capital City club next Monday.

At this meeting will be Senator Hoke Smith and probably Senator Bacon and one or two members of congress from Georgia, who will explain the new banking law and show to the bankers the many reasons why the southeastern bank should be located in Atlanta.

Eight Hundred Invitations Sent.

About 800 invitations have been sent out by the Atlanta Clearing House association to the 115 national banks, and the more than 600 state banks in Georgia. Replies are coming in from these invitations indicating that there will be over 500 Georgia bankers in Atlanta for the dinner.

Tallapoosa, Ga.—Farmers and Merchants bank, W. M. Sasser, president; Bank of Tallapoosa, W. W. Heaton, president.

Bowman, Ga.—L. W. Hendrick, president Bank of Bowman; B. R. Cordell, president Farmers' bank.

Maysville, Ga.—Atkins National bank, Bank of Maysville.

Winder, Ga.—Winder Banking company, Lee S. Radford, cashier; First National Bank of Winder, M. L. Jackson, cashier; Carithers Banking company, H. H. Carithers, vice president.

Lexington, Ga.—Bank of Lexington, C. M. Hunter, cashier; Oglethorpe County bank, G. A. Barray, cashier.

Letters Indorsing Atlanta.

The following letters speak for themselves:

Cedartown, January 13, 1914.—Hon. W. G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C.—Dear Sir: This bank wishes to go on record as favoring Atlanta, Ga., for the location of the regional bank that will serve this section

"Owing to the geographical location and the fact that Atlanta is the distributing point for the south, Atlanta is eminently situated for the location of one of these banks. Yours very truly,

"R. O. PITTS,
"President the Commercial Bank of Cedartown, Ga."

"Villa Rica, Ga., January 14, 1914.—Joseph A. McCord, Vice President Third National Bank, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: It is with pleasure that I write you, at our directors' meeting this afternoon our bank heartily indorses Atlanta for the regional bank for this section, and we believe Atlanta will win, as she always does. I hope to be in Atlanta next Monday, the 19th, and will see you there at the meeting. Yours truly,

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, January 15.—(Special.) "Ben," a big raccoon with a solid gold tooth, called on President Wilson today. He went to the white house in a taxicab with Edward F. Goldtra, of St. Louis, democratic national committeeman from Missouri. Mr. Wilson, however, had gone golfing.

He is a fine specimen of raccoon and is a pet of Mr. Goldtra, who brought him from Missouri to show him to the president. When he was caught by the Randolph County Hunt club he put up such a fight he lost one of his teeth. Mr. Goldtra, in admiration, took the raccoon to a dentist and had it replaced with gold.

On the way to Washington "Ben" rode in the baggage car. At Harrisburg, Pa., a bulldog got on the train and smelled the coon. There was a fight and Ben came out victorious. Mr. Goldtra tomorrow will give President Wilson a raccoon cap of the Davy Crocket style.

WILLIAMS IS ATTACKED AS ENEMY OF MADDOX

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, January 15.—(Special.) During the investigation conducted by the senate banking and currency committee today into the nomination of John Skelton Williams to be comptroller of the currency, he was charged with showing malice toward Robert F. Maddox, of Atlanta, and other bankers.

In the testimony of Milton E. Ailes, vice president of the Riggs National bank, of Washington, which is a member of the Standard Oil chain of banks of which the National City bank, of New York, is the head, Mr. Ailes referred to several such alleged instances. His object was to prove that Mr. Williams does not possess an open and judicial mind such as would insure fair treatment in his official actions as a member of the new federal reserve board.

Mr. Ailes in referring to Mr. Williams' retirement from the Seaboard directorate, said Williams had opposed his selection and that of Mr. Maddox on the board. He had further carried his unfriendliness to Mr. Maddox to the point of attempting to deprive the American bank, of which Mr. Maddox is vice president, of the share it asked in the funds deposited by the treasury department with the banks for moving crops.

The opposition, however, collapsed, and it is expected that Mr. Williams will be confirmed comptroller. He will also be ex-officio a member of the federal reserve board and have a voice in selecting the locations for the regional reserve banks.

Hearings continued today on the action of Mr. Williams in connection with the deposit of government funds in the Munsey Trust company, of Washington, when that institution recently took over the United States Trust company to avert a failure.

"The testimony of everyone," said Senator Owen, chairman of the committee, tonight, "has been convincing that the action of Mr. Williams in the Munsey Trust company was right and necessary. The committee will vote tomorrow to report his nomination favorably."

WILL TELL PUBLIC VALUE OF BONDS

S. E. Davidson and Committee to Arouse Public Sentiment—May Call a Mass Meeting at Later Date.

S. E. Davidson, of the Edwin P. Ansley realty agency and a director of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, together with a committee of citizens, is now at work to arouse public enthusiasm for the much-needed bond issue.

Mr. Davidson and his committee are meeting with such co-operation that he believes within a few weeks a big mass meeting will be held at which the people of Atlanta will be given opportunity to crystallize the sentiment in favor of a bond issue.

The committee is heartily in favor of the suggestion of William G. Humphrey, chairman of the finance commitee of council, for a bond issue to solve the needs of the city of Atlanta.

In an interview to The Constitution Mr. Davidson points out that the city needs at least $5,000,000 for its immediate wants, and that in the next few years that much more will be necessary. It is therefore the idea of Mr. Davidson that an issue of $5,000,000 should be made now in order that the city's affairs may be made ship-shape at once. This he believes to be absolutely imperative if the city hopes to grow.

School Condition Disgraceful.

"In my opinion," says Mr. Davidson, "the city of Atlanta cannot afford not to make adequate arrangements for such necessities as we now need.

"While it is true we have just completed eleven schools, we need about eleven more. If we now need eleven more, what will be our condition in a year or two, when our city again grows? And today many of our schools

Unusual Contest

READERS of The Constitution long ago learned that when The Constitution offered them a contest it was of unusual and distinctive merit and character.

That is true this time more even than heretofore. Next week occurs the most important society event so far this season. In connection with it a contest, inspiring, exciting, instructive and profitable, will be conducted. Order your Sunday paper early.

Next Sunday The Constitution will announce full details and awards at stake in this most unique of all contests. You can do all the work required to win in a few brief hours.

WITH $4,700,000 ON HAND, DEMANDS EXCEED $8,000,000

SURPLUS OF $200,000 FOR NEW PROJECTS

Woodward Declares Committee Must Keep Within Reasonable Bounds--Humphrey in Favor of Bonds.

Engulfed in demands far in excess of $8,000,000 for departmental maintenance and new projects, and with only $4,700,000 current revenue with which to make appropriations, the finance committee of Atlanta's general council began the tedious task of making up the tentative January sheet yesterday afternoon.

Chairman W. G. Humphrey estimated at the close of the session of the committee, which was secret, that the surplus money the committee will have to give to new projects will amount to not more than $200,000.

When Mayor Woodward was asked after the meeting if he would hold the finance committee to the custom he established in 1913 and prevent the use of any part of the unearned money, he declared that he would keep the committee within reasonable bounds. Last year Mayor Woodward and members of the finance committee clashed when Alderman John S. Candler proposed adding $117,000 of so-called anticipated revenue to the sheet. The final culmination was an agreement between the mayor and the committee to add about $108,000 of unearned revenue to the sheet.

Mayor Woodward Silent.

The mayor would not state Thursday what amount he would let the committee put in the sheet. If he agrees to using $100,000 that amount will bring the surplus up to $300,000, which will be only a drop in the bucket in comparison to the demands and needs of the city.

Members of the finance committee are more decided now than ever that the city must have more money, and they point out that the salvation of Atlanta's precarious condition lies in the issuance of bonds. Mayor Woodward is still considering the advisability of advocating an issue of $5,000,000.

"I realize that there are many demands for improvements, which the city is unable to make, with the current revenue," he said. "We need more schools; the Grady hospital needs more buildings for expansion. More sewers are needed, and the city should have more adequate fire protection.

"But I am not convinced that a bond issue is the only means of getting all of that. I am skeptical of the people voting for bonds regardless of whether I support them or not."

Mayor Woodward says that he wants the city's current debts wiped out before he will consent to a bond issue. He also declares that he is rather disinclined to a bond issue because of the influences behind some members of council. He says that he intends to give the financial problem of the city serious consideration before he makes up his mind.

Humphrey Favors Bonds.

Finance Chairman Humphrey is squarely behind the bond issue project. He says that it is the only solution of the present condition.

Indications at the close of Thursday's session of the finance committee pointed to stormy times when the committee gets down to the final analysis of the money problem. Mayor Woodward had thrown out the hint that he will keep the committee in reasonable bounds in the matter of anticipating unearned money and using it in the sheet.

Members of the committee agreed that the January sheet would be made up on the basis of the last year's sheet—that is, the committee will allow each of the departments the same amounts, if possible, as were appropriated for operating expenses last year. This will give the committee a margin of about $200,000 for new projects.

More than $70,000 must be put aside to meet the increases in the salaries of firemen, policemen and school teachers. About $105,000 must be laid aside for the new fire alarm contract. City Attorney Mayson anticipates a judgment against the city in a pending litigation which will cost the city $9,000. There are also the contracts which were made during the last part of 1913 and which will lap over until before the June sheet is made up. These amounts must be provided for, regardless of how the remainder of the money is spent.

Thursday afternoon the committee started making up the sheet which will be presented to council. Chairman Humphrey said after the meeting that he expected the sheet to be in readiness for the meeting of council Monday afternoon.

"No Newspaper Parade."

In the final making of the sheet newspaper reporters were excluded. The excuse given by members who insisted on the "star chamber session" was that they did not want the discussions anent to the spending of the people's $4,700,000 paraded in the newspapers. Chairman Humphrey opposed the secret sessions. He took the position that the public is entitled to know how the committee is spending the public funds.

Alderman C. H. Kelley and C. C. McDonald opposed the open sessions. They said they would be willing to admit the newspapermen provided they pledged themselves to print only such news as the committee censored. The reporters withdrew rather than submit to the gag.

Members of council other than those who are members of the committee are also barred by the edict of the committee. Before adjournment, the committee instructed Chief Clerk Graham West, who acts as secretary, not to allow a reporter to even look at the sheet, which is only a rough draft of details and figures and does not even hint at the "discussions" which take place before the committee.

Councilman A. R. Colcord, who vigorously opposed the secret sessions, and Chairman Humphrey gave the newspaper men some information after the meeting adjourned.

Chairman Humphrey stated that the departmental operating expenses will be practically the same as last year. The police department will get a new patrol wagon, and Matron Bohnefoid will get an increase in her salary. Detective Chief Lanford's scheme to appoint a captain of detectives was killed, as was also the request of Chief Beavers for twenty-five additional patrolmen. The new substation scheme was also knocked cold.

$1,000 for New Fire Horses.

The fire department will get the same amount as last year, with an additional $1,000 for the purchase of new horses.

The Auditorium will get the same, but $200 additional will be given to the Fifth regiment.

Inspector Bowen, in the building inspector's office, will get an increase of $400 a year in salary.

The tax assessors will get an additional $250 for a map and $400 for an adding machine.

No increase was given Custodian Shearer for city hall maintenance.

The committee has decided to give the health department the same as it received last year. Just what will be done with the park department budget is a problem. Manager Dan Carey was given a scant hearing when he appeared before the committee Thursday morning, and from that it is believed that the park department will be shaved down instead of increased.

The sanitary department will probably get some additional equipment. The committee has practically agreed to give $1,200 for an additional inspector in the board of health, to be used wherever he is necessary.

Charities will get no increase as a whole, and some will be cut down.

MAN OF MYSTERY IS NAVAL OFFICER WITH NO MEMORY

Chicago, January 15.—"J. C. R." whose case has been a mystery to students of disorders of the brain, and who escaped October 31 from a hospital at Rochester, Minn., is believed to be a man known only as "J. R. R.," found wondering on the streets here November 10. He is in the county infirmary, where every effort has been made to learn something about him.

"J. R. R." answers in detail to the description of "J. C. R.," and James Mullenbach, superintendent of the infirmary, today received a communication from the navy department saying he undoubtedly is the person who was undergoing treatment at Rochester for the restoration of his memory.

"This man of mystery is believed to have been deprived of the power of speech and memory by a blow on the head," said Mr. Mullenbach. "He can reply to only those questions which require a simple negative or affirmative answer. When asked who he is, he always writes 'J. R. R.' I believe is a second lieutenant in the navy. On his left arm is tattooing that is not usually made elsewhere than at the naval academy. When asked what he does the man makes the two bars of a second lieutenant on his sleeve and says 'Navy.' That is all we have been able to get out of him. The navy department can give us no further information. He is suffering from the effects of an old skull fracture. The skull shows a well-healed scar which I suppose was made by the operation at Rochester in an attempt to bring back his memory."

"J. R. R." is about 45 years old. He will be held at the infirmary pending word from Rochester.

HOWARD ON THE TRAIL OF THE ARMY OFFICERS

Washington, January 15.—Representative Howard, of Georgia, today introduced a resolution aimed to determine what army officers are utilizing government carriages or stabling their horses at the expense of the government. He called on the secretary of war for a complete list of all automobiles or horse-drawn vehicles used for transporting persons or parcels, with a detailed list of any horses privately owned by officers or others in the war department, and the amount charged by the government for stabling privately owned horses.

SAVANNAH COTTON FIRM IS CLOSED UP BY LEVY

Savannah, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—One of the largest cotton firms in Savannah was closed today by a levy executed through a justice court. Steagall-Chears & Co. is the firm. It has been in financial straits for some time, but was able to remain open until one of the creditors levied today.

Sees Belled Buzzard.

Tifton, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Another Tift county farmer, Henry Sutton, of the Brighton section, saw the belled buzzard this week. The buzzard flew within fifty yards of Mr. Sutton and he was first attracted by the noise of the bell. Mr. Sutton says the bell is suspended about six inches from the buzzard's neck and that it only rings when the bird flaps its wings.

WAR WITH MEXICO SEEN BY GILLETT

Massachusetts Republican Says Intervention Is Only Way Out—Secretary Bryan Is Sharply Attacked.

Washington, January 15.—Intervention in Mexico as the only result of the present policy of the United States, was predicted in the house today by Representative Gillett, republican, of Massachusetts, during a war speech in which he assailed Secretary Bryan.

Recognition of Huerta early in the Mexican trouble, Mr. Gillett said, would have offered the best chance of quieting the disturbance.

"When the war comes," said he, "it will be no excuse that the secretary of state has delivered brilliant speeches in favor of peace. An emotional and oratorical glorification of peace is not sufficient atonement for a policy whose legitimate and logical result is war.

"I think when our secretary of state accepted that distinguished position we had a right to expect from him painstaking and assiduous devotion. His ante-room ought to have been thronged with those ready to throw light on his new problems rather than with office-seekers and politicians. The country needed more than that he should read international law lectures and deliver chautauqua lectures. He apparently has deemed the state department rather a sinecure and a reservoir of patronage than a field of duty which required earnest and persistent application."

Mr. Gillett denounced the change of American policy in China and the early recognition of the Chinese republic.

No Change in Policy.

There has been no change in the policy of the United States in regard to Mexico. This was the substance of replies made today by Secretary Bryan to several members of the diplomatic corps who called at the state department. The foreign representatives, noting the depressing effect upon Mexican bonds held by citizens of their countries, through the default in the semi-annual interest payments, had inquired as to what action, if any, the United States would take in view of the new conditions.

The secretary's callers inferred that this collapse of Mexican credit abroad had been fully expected by the administration, and that Mr. Bryan was not in any sense apprehensive of foreign interference in the working out of the American plans. It was made evident, too, that no thought has yet been given to intervention by the United States between the Mexican factions.

From Hermosillo it is reported today that positive orders had been promulgated by General Carranza that no Americans or their properties should be interfered with in any manner.

GEN. VILLA TO CARRY REVOLUTION TO SOUTH

Chihuahua, Mexico, January 15.—After his decisive victory at Ojinaga, General Francisco Villa, rebel military chief, returned here today with his army. He gave directions for the early departure of his troops southward to attack federals about Torreon and to carry the revolution into southern cities.

With General Villa were General Toribio Ortega, General Monclovio Herrera and General Panfilo Natera, who fought at Ojinaga.

General Villa expects to go to Juarez to confer with some of his chiefs before he personally joins the southward march. He probably will go there early next week.

Reports from Torreon said the federals there, commanded by General Jose Refugio Velasco, were greatly alarmed and that they probably would flee if the rebel army appeared in force. The federal army around Torreon had hoped that General Mercado at Ojinaga could resist the rebels, who thus would not be in a position to march south without fear of a rear attack.

The rebels already occupy the suburbs of Torreon. Federals were reported camping in the railroad yards, so they might evacuate quickly.

If only a little fighting is required to drive them from Torreon, General Villa said he would proceed at once toward Zacatecas, the next large city southward. After that the rebel march will be Aguas Calientes. A general rally around Guadalajara, the second largest city in the republic, is contemplated later.

Prospects of peace in the territory held by the rebel government became such that the Mexican Northwestern railroad today ordered many of its employees to return to their posts. The road will be operated to the lumber camp at Madera and extend as rapidly as bridges can be repaired.

TENTED CITY ERECTED FOR MEXIC REFUGEES

El Paso, Texas, January 15.—A tented city was erected at Fort Bliss today for the reception of the 4,500 Mexican soldiers and refugees from Ojinaga, Mexico. On their arrival from Presidio, Texas, in four or five days, the soldiers will be divided into their original commands and placed in camp here indefinitely, or until the war department orders their removal elsewhere.

General Hugh L. Scott took personal charge of arranging the camp. About 1,500 tents, 10,000 blankets and kitchen supplies were provided. It will require a carload of rations every two days to feed the Mexicans. The army has no authority to compel the refugees to work, but it is expected the Mexican officers will order their soldiers to maintain the camp. Wives of the soldiers will do the cooking.

A wire fence has been strung around the camp. Within this inclosure the refugees, virtually prisoners, will be guarded day and night.

LABOR EDITOR IS HELD UNDER SHERMAN LAW

Indianapolis, Ind., January 15.—Edgar Wallace, editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, today was arrested on a warrant charging him with violating the anti-trust law in connection with the Colorado coal miners' strike. He was indicted at Pueblo several weeks ago.

Wallace, a few days ago, underwent an operation and still is in bed. He waived preliminary examination and gave bond of $5,000 for his appearance in Colorado to stand trial.

The warrant for Wallace's arrest was received here several days ago but he was not removed from the hospital to his home until yesterday.

Realty in Tifton.

Tifton, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—One hundred city lots sold in one hundred and twenty minutes is perhaps a record for rapid transactions in Georgia real estate. This feat was accomplished today in the auction sale of lots in the Woodlawn subdivision, in the southeastern part of the city. The lots formed part of a tract of 196 acres recently purchased by Briggs Carson from H. H. Tift and were auctioned off by A. Harris.

MOYER IS INDICTED FOR CONSPIRACY

Thirty-Seven Other Labor Leaders Also Indicted by Grand Jury—Gov. Ferris Denounces Congressman.

Houghton, Mich., January 15.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, and thirty-seven other officials and members of the organization were indicted today on charges of conspiracy in connection with the copper miners' strike.

The true bill was so worded that the allegations against the men constitute a misdemeanor. Several other true bills were returned, but because they charged felonies, Judge P. H. C. O'Brien ordered the documents sealed until the men named in them have been arrested.

Warrants for Union Men.

Warrants were prepared for the thirty-eight union men accused of conspiracy and deputy sheriffs scurried over the county late today serving them. More than a dozen individuals had been arrested tonight and circuit court commissioners in Houghton and Calumet were kept busy approving bonds of $1,000 under which many of the prisoners were released.

So far as could be learned none of the sealed indictments related to the deportation of Moyer and Charles Tanner on the night of December 26. The grand jury continued its work after making its report to the court, but the score or more witnesses in the anteroom said they were summoned to testify concerning disorders that arose prior to December 13.

The indictment was in three counts, the first and second charging conspiracy to prevent mine employees from pursuing "their lawful avocations." The third count alleged that the conspiracy extended to an attempt to deprive the laborers generally of their property and rights.

The testimony of 127 witnesses formed the basis of the charges. This list included several mine managers. In addition there were several women, a number of business men and more than fourscore of non-union workmen.

After perusing the list of witnesses, the union men generally said they were not at all surprised that the indictment had been found. Charles E. Heittala, also called attention to the personnel of the grand jury.

"It has been openly acknowledged that at least nine jurymen," he said, "owe allegiance to the Citizens' Alliance and that body is frankly the enemy of organized labor."

Governor Ferris Brands Congressman

Washington, January 15.—A telegram from Governor Ferris, of Michigan, branding as "false and traitorous" statements as to conditions in the Michigan copper district attributed to Representative MacDonald, of Michigan, and quoted in the senate by Senator Ashurst, was read in the senate today and later withdrawn as a violation of the courtesy due a member of the other house.

Senator Townsend, of Michigan, presented the message, with a copy of a similar telegram sent to President Wilson by Governor Ferris. It asserted that law and order was being preserved in the copper district, the court open, the grand jury in session and the machinery of justice available to every citizen of the state.

Senator Bacon, of Georgia, objected to the reading of the message.

"Neither the governor of Michigan nor the senator from Michigan has the right to have read here," he said, "that which is defamatory to the character of a member of the other house."

Before Senator Townsend withdrew the message and substituted a statement of its substance, Senator Ashurst said Representative MacDonald had been seated beside him in the senate when he presented his resolution for a congressional investigation of the copper strike and that the quotations from Mr. MacDonald had been made with his permission.

Telegram of Governor.

"Senator Ashurst reported to have quoted Michigan congressman, twelfth district, as saying:

"'The twelfth district of Michigan is a part of the United States where constitutional government no longer exists; that the rights of citizens under our constitution and our laws are overthrown and the laws and the constitution defied.'

"If the congressman from the twelfth district said these things, he said that which is false in every particular, that which is a traitorous insult to his own district and the whole state of Michigan."

Senator Bacon, though protesting against discourtesy in the senate toward members of the house, declared himself in sympathy with the petition of the governor that Michigan should handle the strike situation herself. Senator Borah took the same attitude.

SEEK IMPROVEMENTS.

South Atlanta Wants Schoolhouse and Firehouse.

The South Atlanta Improvement club held a mass meeting Thursday evening at the store of W. L. Jones, corner Milton avenue and McDonough road, for the purpose of bringing a schoolhouse and fire station to their section of the city. The spirit of the meeting was that of "fight for neglected rights."

Incidentally, two other important improvements were discussed. The club voted to bring before the bridge committee of council the question of erecting a new bridge over the Southern railroad tracks on McDonough road, setting forth the claim that the present bridge is dangerous. Liberal subscriptions ware also made to bring gas mains to their section of the city.

Four years ago this section was taken into the city corporate limits. At that time they had a good county school which their children attended. The county then removed the school to another section. From that time to the present children of this locality have been compelled to go about two miles to Fraser street school.

Last August the need of a new school was brought to the attention of W. M. Slaton, superintendent of schools, and passed on by the board of education. Mr. Slaton, however, failed to recommend in his report that this section be supplied with a school at the present time. A census of the number of school chidren in the immediate locality shows 176.

There is no fire station within a mile of the neighborhood, and recently three houses burned to ashes before the Glenn street plant arrived. The members of the club stated at the meeting that they helped defray the city's expenses, and should be given something in return.

Alderman J. W. Maddox and Councilman McCord delivered enthusiastic speeches in behlaf of south side improvements. Among the citizens making speeches were S. B. Turman, W. H. Kershaw and J. H. Galhouse. The talks threw into the spirit of the meeting a determination to get what they want and get it now. Immediate action was taken by appointment of a committee of ten to meet Friday morning for the purpose of calling in a body upon the second and third ward representatives in council to secure their influence in obtaining immediate appropriation from the finance committee for the purchase of a school lot and erection of a building.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the store of E. J. Costley, corner McDonough road and Grant street, next Thursday.

BRIDE OF A WEEK FINDS HUSBAND IS ESCAPED CONVICT

On the eve of the honeymoon he intended taking with his mountain bride of a week, Linwood Jones, an escaped convict who broke jail from Rockdale convict camp twelve months ago, was captured in Ducktown, Tenn., a day or so ago and brought to Atlanta last night.

He was sentenced to the state penitentiary for highway robbery, to which he pleaded guilty. Escaping with four others during December, 1912, he fled to the mountains of north Georgia. The remaining three jailbirds were recaptured. Jones obtained employment with a mining concern at Ducktown, where he was elected superintendent of a corps of miners.

Several months ago he met and wooed pretty Alice Hughes, a girl of the hills. A little more than a week past they were married. They had arranged to embark upon a honeymoon through Tennessee, the Carolinas and Georgia when detectives located him and put him under arrest.

He was lodged in police headquarters last night and will be sent to Rockdale this morning. The crime for which he was convicted was the attack upon and robbery of a pedestrian four years ago at Piedmont avenue and Butler street. At the time of his prison delivery he had served thirty-two months of the four-year sentence.

HIGHER RATES URGED FOR THE RAILROADS

Chicago, January 15.—A 5 per cent increase in freight rates was favored today in resolutions adopted by the board of directors of the National Business League of America.

"We believe," the resolution read, "that the present net earnings of the railways are insufficient for the proper maintenance of equipment, extension of facilities, efficient service and safety of life and property; resulting also in the curtailment of purchases from dependent industries which seriously cripples the general business of the country."

Dr. W. G. Ewing Dead.

Nashville, Tenn., January 15.—Dr. William Green Ewing, one of the most prominent physicians of the state, is dead here following a protracted illness. Dr. Ewing was for ten years dean of the medical department of the University of Nashville. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lizzie Overton Ewing, who is a sister of Mrs. J. M. Dickinson, wife of former Secretary of War Dickinson. Dr. Ewing was 66 years old.

ON EVE OF WEDDING GAS KILLS LANKFORD

Friends of Southern Railway Vice President Insist Death Was Accidental. Miss Patterson Prostrated.

New York, January 15.—Richard D. Lankford, a vice president and treasurer of the Southern railroad, was found dead from gas asphyxiation in his bachelor apartments in Brooklyn today. The police and the coroner decided he had committed suicide, but later developments cast doubt on this theory.

Failure to establish a motive for suicide is mainly responsible for the emphatic assertion of his friends and Miss Nellie Patterson, a Brooklyn society girl, whom he was to have married Saturday, that his death was accidental. Mr. Lankford was 46 years of age.

Body in Bathroom.

The body of Mr. Lankford was found in the bathroom. A physician said life had been extinct for several hours. A pillow under the head, another pillow on the sill of the bathroom window and a towel hanging over the door knob are said to have suggested suicide. Gas was streaming from a jet and in the same bracket an electric lamp was burning. This has caused Mr. Lankford's friends to believe the gas jet had been opened accidentally by him while switching on the electric light. They also held that Mr. Lankford placed the pillow on the window sill for the purpose of keeping out the cold, and that the towel was hung on the door knob as a matter of course. No note or anything was found to indicate unmistakably a suicidal purpose on Mr. Lankford's part.

A friend who was with Mr. Lankford last night said that when they separated the railroad man appeared to be in good health and spirits.

"Lankford had everything to live for," he said, "and I cannot believe that he committed suicide. It must have been an accident."

Miss Patterson Talks.

"Mr. Lankford spent last evening with me at my home," she said. "He left about 10 o'clock. I did not say goodby to him. He had been sitting talking to my brother and his wife. What he said to them I don't know. He appeared to be perfectly happy while he was talking with me, which was for about two hours after dinner.

"We had never had the slightest trouble, and no quarrel of any kind at any time. I cannot imagine the reason for this dreadful thing."

Mr. Lankford had been identified with railway service rrom the beginning of his career. He had risen from a minor clerkship to be vice president and secretary of the Southern railway system and to hold like offices, as well as directorships in other corporations.

After Miss Patterson had retired Mr. Lankford remained in the house until about 11 o'clock, talking to her brother and his wife. Miss Patterson said her fiancee had complained of stomach trouble and violent headaches, but never had given her to understand the matter was serious. There had been no disagreement between Mr. Lankford and her, she said.

Lankford a Maryland Man.

Mr. Lankford was born at Princess Anne, Md. From December 1, 1892, to May 31, 1894, he was cashier and treasurer of the Broadway Railway company of Brooklyn, and in June of the latter year became assistant secretary, and later secretary of the Southern railway.

He was elected vice president and secretary in September, 1910. He was known as a man of exemplary habits. He was much given to keeping his own counsel and none of his business associates appear to have known that he was to have been married Saturday.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP URGED FOR COAL MINES

Senator Martine Says Step Is Necessary to Cure Present Evil Conditions.

Washington, January 15.—Government ownership of the great coal mines of the country, as a remedy for strike disturbances, was recommended by Senator Martine, of New Jersey, today in a report submitted to Chairman Swanson of the senate committee which investigated the West Virginia coal strike troubles. Senator Martine, charged particularly with the inquiry regarding interference with the mails and the employment of contract labor, reported that the evidence failed to establish either of these conditions.

The report attributed much of the violence and bloodshed in West Virginia to the presence of armed guards hired by mine owners and recommended the passage of a bill Senator Martine introduced in the senate last session, prohibiting the employment of armed police by private organizations.

Senator Martine said, in part:

"God has blessed West Virginia with profligate hand. Here, above all sections, should peace, plenty and happiness reign supreme. On the contrary your committee found disorder, riot, bitterness and bloodshed in their stead.

"In no spirit of malice or hatred, but with a view that the country, through knowledge of true conditions may right the wrong, I charge that the hiring of armed bodies of men by private mine owners, and other corporations and the use of steel armored trains, machine guns and bloodhounds on defenseless men, women and children is but a little way removed from barbarism.

"A millionaire owner of a great section of West Virginia calmly admitted on the witness stand that so long as he got his per ton royalty he never inquired further. Coal, under our civilization, is a necessity. At the risk of criticism by my friends and countrymen, I unhesitatingly say that government ownership of coal mines is the only hope or solution for those who may come after us."

Additional partial reports on various phases of the West Virginia investigation still are to be submitted to Chairman Swanson, by Senators Shields and Kenyon. When these have been made Senator Swanson will combine all of the partial reports in a general discussion of the results of the investigation.

WOMAN WILL LEAD COLORADO DEMOCRATS

Denver, Col., January 15.—Mrs. Gertrude A. Lee became chairman of the democratic state central committee last night when George T. Bradley retired to accept the position of state railroad commission.

Mrs. Lee, who has been vice chairman, is the first woman to hold the position of chairman of a democratic state central committee. She was a presidential elector at the last national election.

Honesty and Co-Operation Stressed by Woodhead

Honesty in advertising and co-operation among the different lines of the publicity business were the keynotes sounded at the banquet given at the Ansley hotel last night by the local Ad Men's club in honor of William Woodhead, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America.

There were present about seventy-five men, representing many of the leading business enterprises of the city. E. H. Goodhart, president of the local Ad Men's club, presided.

The first speaker, Sam C. Dobbs, a former president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, told how he met Mr. Woodhead on a trip he made to Spakane some years ago and how he induced him to join the national organization together with the Pacific Coast Ad Men's association, of which he was head at the time.

"The Advertising Men's association," said Mr. Dobbs, "is composed of growing men, men who see visions today and tomorrow, put them into actualities. They are men who are coining words into money. It is a privilege today for any man to say that he belongs to one."

Dobbs Given Praise.

"Three or four years ago," said Mr. Woodhead in his speech, "the ad men's clubs were chiefly social organizations, and their meetings were of a vaudeville character. Now that is changed, largely as the result of the work which Dobbs did at the Boston convention in 1911, the first real convention which the association had held.

"There are now 125 to 130 ad men's clubs in the country with a membership of 10,000.

"The Boston convention was the real beginning. At the Baltimore convention last summer, we made our declaration of principles. Then the great 'get together movement' was inaugurated. The curtain is now up and the play is on. We are going to complete the prologue begun in Boston three years ago with the greatest convention in Toronto this summer that we have ever held. The spirit of co-operation, which is solving, under the guiding hand of our president, the perplexities of big business, the age-long feud of labor and capital, will also solve all inconsistencies which present themselves to our organization.

"This spirit of co-operation will bring about honesty in advertising. Trtuhful advertising will soon be the only kind an honest medium will accept. The greatest evil we have to contend with today is the quack and the fakir. Every time a man or woman is cheated by fake advertising, the cause of honest advertising is hurt. It is the duty of the honest advertiser to weed the fake out of the business."

The speaker referred to a meeting of the executive committee, which he had just attended in New York. He said that several conclusions had been reached at that meeting.

"We think," he went on, "that it is time that the Ad Men's convention should be made up of advertising men. We are willing to welcome others, but the voting delegates should be men who are either buying or selling advertising space."

New Field Opened Up.

Mr. Woodhead called attention to several branches of the advertising business which had been more or less neglected by the conventions hitherto. He hoped to be able to organize a department of community advertising, made up of secretaries of boards of trade and chambers of commerce; also a department of railroad advertising, which offered a wide field, hitherto neglected by the association.

In conclusion, he characterized Atlanta as the San Francisco of the south and declared that he hoped to be able to welcome the members of the ad men's club to a convention in San Francisco in 1915.

Before adjournment, President Goodhart announced two features of the future which will be of interest to all ad men. One will be the luncheon at the Ansley hotel next Thursday, when Governor Slanton will address the club on the "Doctrine of Publicity." The other will be held on the night of January 27, when James Schermerhorn, editor of The Detroit Times, will deliver an address.

WITNESSES SUBPOENAED FOR CRAWFORD PROBE

Effort Will Be Made January 21 to Indict Mrs. Crawford for Murder.

All of the subpoenas in the Joshua B. Crawford probe, to be started before the present grand jury on January 21, have been placed in the hands of proper authorities for service. This was made certain Thursday when Attorney J. S. James, chief counsel for the prosecution in the case, gave out a partial list of persons who will be brought here to tell their stories to the probing body and attempt to secure the indictment of Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford for the alleged murder of her aged and wealthy husband.

The list includes: Mrs. Gertrude Painter, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mrs. E. C. Bursner, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mrs. H. C. Billingsley, of Coweta county, Georgia; Gus Crawford, of Haralson county, Georgia; Miss Viola Whitmer, of Coweta county, Georgia; Dr. H. B. Griffen, of Carrollton, Ga.; J. G. Thurman, of Carroll county, Georgia, and J. H. Hutchison, of Haleyville, Ala.

The list embraces only the subpoenaes issued to out-of-town witnesses who will appear before the grand jury in the sensational probe. The list of those witnesses who live in Atlanta will be made public Friday.

The date of the arguments before Auditor Anderson in the civil angle of the Crawford will litigation has been advanced to January 26. This was made necessary by the illness of Attorney Reuben Arnold, of counsel for Mrs. Crawford. As soon as Mr. Arnold is sufficiently recovered so that he can attend to his legal duties, the arguments in the case will be commenced.

Special Prosecutor John Y. Smith, named recently by Judge Ben Hill to act in the Crawford murder probe, stated on Thursday that he was ready now to proceed to an investigation of the case before the grand jury.

Attorney James declared that despite the fact that one of his out-of-town witnesses was ill and might still be in no condition to be here next Wednesday, his witnesses would go before the grand jury, and that the probers would be asked to withhold final judgment in the matter of indictment until such a time as the witness could appear before them.

RABBI YOOD PREACHES AT AHAVATH ACHIM

Rabbi H. Yood, of Reading, Pa., will deliver a sermon tonight at 8 o'clock at the Synagogue Ahavath Achim, at Gilmer street and Piedmont avenue.

Dr. Yood came to Atlanta in answer to a call sent to him recently by the synagogue.

On Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock, Dr. Yood will preach at the synagogue. It is expected that a large audience will be present at the Saturday service, as Dr. Yood is noted among his people for forceful and eloquent appeals.

HELLO GIRL WILL STAY ON HER JOB ALTHOUGH WEDDED

Despite the fact that she has married, Miss Verna Smith, the pretty phone operator at the Kimball house, who about a year ago startled Atlantans when she declared that all she needed for protection from mashers was a billy and a small calibre revolver, will keep right on at her post of duty, sweetly saying, "hello," just as if nothing had happened in her life worth changing her position for.

Miss Smith declared Thursday that now that she is married she would forego the pleasure of carrying a pistol and a mace, as she didn't need them "since her husband was with her to protect her."

Miss Smith was quietly married to A. C. Hill, a local cotton buyer, on last Sunday by Rev. A. L. Sears, of the Bonnie Brae Methodist church. The wedding came as a surprise to the girl's father, with whom Hill has been boarding for the past five years.

"Young Men and Men Who Stay Young"

Is an advertising phrase that implies a lot more than the casual interpretation would say. It is pertinently a clothing advertising phrase.

"Men who stay young" are those who wear clothes that create smartness and signify vitality.

The man who wears smart clothes and wears them smartly stands a strong chance to stay young. He looks the part and he feels a large part of his looks.

May we state that MUSE customers are men who stay young? Why not? There's ginger in good clothes and we have the good clothes.

Get into a trim fitting English suit, and snappy belted overcoat—the MUSE kind—and feel the ginger.

Life is short, they say. Today is the best beginning we know of. It's worth trying.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had at Hotaling's Newsstands, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner), Thirty-eighth street and Broadway and Twenty-ninth street and Broadway.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

LET ATLANTANS DECIDE THE NEEDS OF ATLANTA.

The fact that the two generally accredited factions in the city administration may get together on a bond issue as the surest, and practically the only, way to solve Atlanta's municipal problems is a hopeful sign.

Mayor Woodward, heretofore reported as being opposed to a bond issue, is giving the suggestion serious consideration. If he yields it will be for what he concedes to be the good of the city. Unless he does yield—and if he stands against a bond issue—the matter may as well be dropped, for the issue can be authorized only upon a non-partisan, non-political basis. If either side is inclined to "play politics" with so serious a question as the city's welfare, a campaign for bonds would be fruitless.

Fortunately the mayor has taken care not to align himself with the opposition, but on the other hand his attitude may be construed at this time as being at least not unfavorable to the issue.

Whether the lives and the health and the education of the children of Atlanta are to be safeguarded; whether the lives and the health of Atlantans in general are to be protected or jeopardized; whether hospital facilities are to be standardized; whether vital street improvement projects that affect every man, woman and child in the city are to be effected or postponed indefinitely—

Constitute an issue that transcends partisan prejudice or favor, an issue that should be taken to the high tribunal of the whole people.

To that end The Constitution suggests the creation of a citizens' commission, to probe exhaustively the needs of this city and to render to the whole people a verdict for or against bonds, in order that the public may have the data of such an investigation, in passing finally upon the question.

Let that commission be representative in the most scrupulous sense of the word.

Let it include spokesmen from the federation of trades; from the women's clubs; from the chamber of commerce; from the teachers' association; from the bankers; from professional ranks; from taxpayers generally; from council; from city officials, including the mayor. Blanket on that commission every solitary element with a stake in Atlanta's future.

Let the commission approach its task with an open mind. Let it summons all heads of city departments. Let it make searching inquiry on its own account. Let it call as testimony the several expert surveys made of Atlanta by outside individuals within the past few years. Let it consult the taxpayers. Let it cast aside prejudice. Let it ignore the boundaries of wards, and let it remember that there is no color line in disease and inefficiency.

Every man, woman and child in Atlanta knows this city is years behind the times in its municipal facilities.

Every man, woman and child has witnessed, year after year, a widening gap between growing needs and a relatively shrinking apportionment sheet.

All know that the moral obligation route to relief has been knocked higher than a kite by the supreme court.

It is folly compounded to try any longer to compromise with danger by the effort to make current income care for current expenses AND improvements.

It has come to a show-down!

Upon the manner in which Atlanta meets this crisis is going to depend the future and the reputation of the city for an indefinite period.

All agree as to the disease.

Many differ as to the remedy.

A few are not convinced.

Others quibble or are unconvinced.

While discussion and partisan hair-pulling rage things grow worse; health and life and prestige are jeopardized; the penalty for inaction looms heavier in the future.

Let's stop this miserable evasion and indecision.

Put the people's business up to the people.

THE GERMAN GIANT.

The American business man who recognizes in Germany one of our most formidable competitors in the field of international trade will be keenly interested in an article on the financial situation in Germany, written by Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to this country, and published in a recent issue of "Export American Industries."

Count von Bernstorff goes into an elaborate statistical analysis of the growth of the empire's foreign trade for fifty, forty, twenty and ten-year periods. He shows that within the past forty years the values of Germany's foreign trade have more than tripled. From 1872 to 1912 her imports increased 208 per cent, and her exports 262 per cent, leaving a healthy margin on the right side of the ledger. In comparison with other world-powers, the total foreign trade of Germany for the same period makes a phenomenal showing. Germany's trade for this period increased 199 per cent, England's 86 per cent, that of France 91 per cent, and the United States led with an increase of 236 per cent.

American business men, however, have reason to stop and take notice, when the accounts are cast up for the twenty-year period between 1891 and 1911. Germany's increase in that period was 143.1 per cent, England's 65.9, France's 69.8, while America had dropped to second place with 105.1 per cent increase.

The German ambassador takes also the items of railroad and navigation, in which he shows the German increase to be equally notable. He says that these great changes have caused a radical raising of standards of living throughout the German empire, the budget of the average household being raised and new construction going on at an impressive rate. The same appreciation shows in the increase of the government budget. The income of the empire and the federal states combined increased from 2,860.4 million marks in 1881 to 8,701.0 million marks in 1911. Population has recorded similar advancement. In 1871 the population of the German empire was 41,059,000. In 1910 it was 64,903,000, or 56 per cent increase. The banks, the associations of credit and the rural credit associations, together with investments of life insurance companies, indicate proportionate and formidable increases.

Count von Bernstorff denies that the slightly higher rate of interest in Germany is due to a scarcity of capital. The spectacle is, he says, to be attributed to far-reaching changes in the economic standards and systems of the empire, and to the tremendous industrial activities of the epochal past thirty years. The picture he draws, and substantiates, is that of an enormously wealthy and progressive people, rising to the opportunities of expansion with avidity and ease. If the United States hopes effectually to cope with this great power in the unfolding field of world competition it is evident that our business men and the government itself must at once take cognizance of the size of the task ahead of them.

NO STERILIZED CUPID.

The state senate of South Carolina has joined the procession of legislative bodies that decline to impose a sterilized Cupid upon humanity. That is the effect of its action in rejecting, by a decisive vote, an eugenical marriage law.

There is no doubt at all that the cause of eugenics, in itself an admirable science, has sustained an indefinite backset because of the ignorant extremism of the legislature of Wisconsin. The lawmakers of that state strove, at one stroke, to undo the errors of the centuries by stipulating rigid and inquisitorial qualifications for matrimony. As with every effort to reform human nature overnight, rather than by appeal to its logical faculties, the pendulum has gone to the other extreme and there is a clamorous demand in Wisconsin for the repeal of the law. In the meantime, the old "common law" marriage has been revived, with the result that judicious people are regretting that their solons did not endure the ills already present rather than fly to others charged with incomparably greater menace.

Every thoughtful person hopes that in time the more enduring and proven principles of eugenics will be voluntarily accepted by people throughout the land. But every thoughtful person knows that to try to give a reform legislative right-of-way over conviction is the surest plan to breed a nation of hypocrites and technical lawbreakers.

The big corporations didn't meet the president half way home, but probably they telegraphed their intention to be good.

Voices of the Fields.

To the music of sweet voices from over fields of corn:

"The seed is lulled to sleep
Where clouds of winter weep,
But the soil still holds the harvests
Of the wide world in its keep."

Of the wide world in its keep."

Dreaming of the harvests, come voices in the night
Over the fields of cotton: "We clothe the world in white.

"The seed wakes from its sleep:
Oh, world! no longer weep;
For the sower is the reaper

It Happened in Texas.

The truthful man with the long whiskers said to the editor of The Glasco Sun:

"You'd scarcely believe how excessively damp it is along the Gulf Coast. We all use rawhide harness, and a real hot, damp day sure does cause the tugs to stretch amazingly. One day I drove down to the river bottom more than a mile from home and loaded up three-quarters of a cord of pecan wood. Just as I had finished loading a shower came up and the water that fell was as hot as the so-called hot coffee in restaurants. Well I started the mules, and the tugs began to stretch, but the wagon never budged. I drove on home and when I got there the wagon was still down in the bottom and the tugs were stretched out as small as shoestrings. What did I do to get the wood home? That's easy. I just unharnessed and threw the gears over a stump in the back yard. Fifteen minutes later the sun shone out, dried up the dampness and in less than an hour that wagon came creeping up the hill. Yes, sir, that's a fact."

Efficient Housekeeping

By HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL,
Domestic Science Lecturer.

ALL'S GRIST AT THIS MILL.

Bootle's baby proved that it was only human to "want to see the wheels go round," so when I am asked where I find all the new recipes, quirks, and kinks for this column, I know it is natural curiosity and "fess up."

Every home has some especially good way of doing things, if this was not so all families would be alike, so it is just a matter of keeping one's eyes and ears open to discover these best ways. To pass these discoveries along through domestic science classes, pages of magazines or the columns of our daily papers is a progressive sort of delightful missionary work.

But all the recipes published in this column must bear closest investigation, be useful and practical. That is why many that are sent into this office must go into the waste basket instead of print. Just now, when fresh eggs are in the neighborhood of a half a dollar a dozen, a two-egg cake is more welcome than a meringue pudding that calls loudly for twelve eggs and half a pound of butter or a quart of cream, whipped.

"A nose for news" is just as necessary to a housekeeper as to a reporter and with it must go a sense of proportion and good judgment. Equipped with this receptive, open mind a friendly woman will find half her perplexities solved by her trained sense of observation.

If she has a next door neighbor, more experienced than herself, she can call over the back fence until she attracts her attention, then state her question and listen. If said next door neighbor is human, in five minutes this particular problem will be rightly solved and twenty-seven excellent suggestions for meeting similar dilemmas offered. You cannot be a good housekeeper or any other successful thing in this world unless you have this neighborly spirit well developed.

Just the other night I gave an hour I could scarcely spare to a homesick lad who wanted some of his mother's cooking. To show how much more one gets than they give in case of this kind read the following:

"You know," said the boy, "bacon used to oe so cheap and the higher priced it got the better we all liked it, but finally it soared so far it was out of reach. Then mother commenced to use salt pork and we liked it almost as well.

"Well, I just got so hungry for some pickled pork the other day I thought I'd have to throw up my job here on the paper and go home. But instead I went into the little German's butcher shop and started to tell him what I wanted.

"Say! He was as pleased as if I'd handed him a big dollar. He got out that fat, salt pork and sliced it just right, about half an inch thick, you know. All the time he was saying, 'Yah, Yah, Yah.'

"Then I took it to the boarding house and made 'em let me cook it. It had to be scalded in boiling water to get out the salt taste, then cooked in a frying pan until most of the fat was out and the slices beginning to brown. Then I rolled each of the slices in peppered flour and put them all back in the fat and cooked them until they were crisp, and real brown.

"Say! It's the best stuff and all the fellows at the house went wild over it."

Is not a heart to heart recipe like that worth listening for?

WHY IS SOUTH CALLED THE LAND OF DIXIE?

Several days ago The Constitution received a communication from a subscriber asking: "How did the name 'Dixie' originate, as applied to the South?"

The inquiry was referred to Major C. W. Hubner, of the Carnegie Library, well known as a literary authority and encyclopaedic in his knowledge of things generally, and he answered:

> "In the South, 'Dixie' as meaning the southern states is supposed to have been derived from 'Mason and Dixon's line,' which formerly divided the free and slave states. It is said to have first come into use when Texas joined the union. For further details see the Century Dictionary, volume 11 (Cyclopaedia of Names), page 329."

Perhaps some of The Constitution's readers may be able to throw additional light on the subject and if any of them has a better answer than that furnished by Major Hubner The Constitution will be glad to receive it.

KNOWLEDGE.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

There is an old saying that "What you do not Know will not Hurt you." This is but part true. For every day that you neglect to learn more and to find out new things, you hold back your Progress, take away from your daily Joy, and the possibility within you for doing greater things. You trample upon the latent Energies within you that are fairly pawing the ground to get into action and accomplish something.

Learn Something NEW every day.

The wisest man that ever lived never knew it all. Never in the history of the world has it been so easy to accumulate Knowledge as now. A few pennies will buy masterpieces that a few years ago were to be had only by the wealthy or highly educated.

Learn Something NEW every day.

This is an age of the making of many Books and the creating of many Inventions. Instead of the slacking of Opportunities, never in all history have there been so many. So that if you fail to Get and to Grow, you have but yourself to blame. Knowledge is awakening, and it permeates the very air for those who will breathe it in, but ignorance is a sleeping thing, always dormant.

Learn Something NEW every day.

Get Knowledge systematically. Map out a course of reading and put down as a program the things you desire to accomplish. Definitely search for Knowledge wherever it may be had. Then distribute it into every quarter that you are able, for in so doing Knowledge reaccumulates. In new forms it comes back to you as Increased Knowledge.

Water Power in Georgia.

(From The Electrical World.)

The Georgia Railway & Power Co., of Atlanta, Ga., has recently placed in operation its hydroelectric station at Tallulah Falls, which is one of the largest water power plants in the world. The station has the distinction of being the largest now operating in the south. Five immense turbines are installed, and the electricity is transmitted over a steel tower line at 110,000 volts to Atlanta and other places miles away. What are known as outdoor types of substations are used for reducing the voltage from 110,000 volts to tensions suitable for local distribution. The outdoor type substation at Atlatna is the largest of its kind in the world.

The Great Trials of History

TRIAL OF THE SALEM WITCHES.

The people of Massachusetts, in the seventeenth century, like all other Christian people at that time, at least, with extremely rare individual exceptions, believed in the reality of a hideous crime called "witchcraft." In a few instances witches were believed to have appeared in New England in the earlier years, but the cases had been sporadic. With three or four exceptions no person appears to have been punished for witchcraft in Massachusetts, nor convicted of it, for more than sixty years after the settlement.

The first real show of the witchcraft spirit came in 1692, in February, when the daughter of Samuel Parris, the minister of Salem village, and a niece, began to have strange caprices. The former was a child of nine and the latter twelve. In the family of the minister were two slaves, John and Tituba, whom he had brought from the West Indies. The two children startled the neighborhood by their unaccountable performances, creeping under tables, assuming strange and painful attitudes, and uttering inarticulate cries. This went on for some time, when the twelve-year-old daughter of a neighbor also began to act strangely. The families became distressed and the neighbors alarmed.

These children would fall into convulsions and utter piercing shrieks. At other times they would force their limbs into grotesque postures, and become incapable of speech and motion. At length it was declared that nothing short of witchery was the trouble. The physicians were perplexed and baffled, and naturally encouraged by the verdict of physicians and ministers, countenanced by Mr. Parris and the church members, these "afflicted children," as they and some other girls and women similarly afflicted in the village were now called, began their accusations.

The first persons mentioned were Tituba, the Indian slave; Goody Osborn, a bedridden woman whose mind was affected by many troubles, physical and mental, and Sarah Good, a friendless, forlorn creature, who was looked upon as a vagrant.

In March, 1692, the first examinations were held in the meeting house in Salem village, John Hawthorne, ancestor of the novelist, and Jonathan Corwin, acting as magistrates, the three accused having previously been remanded to jail. The victims did not receive fair treatment, for their guilt was assumed from the first and no counsel was allowed.

At the trial it was brought out that the children were tortured whenever the accused looked at them. During the months of April and May, of 1692, Justice Hawthorne and Corwin with Marshal George Herrick were busy getting the witches into jail, and the good people were startled, astounded, and terror-stricken at the number who were seized.

Bridget Bishop, who had been accused of witchcraft twenty years before, was the first to be brought to trial. So, as there was no doubt about her, she was quickly condemned and was hung on the 10th day of June in the presence of a crowd of sad and frightened people.

The new governor, Phips, who had just arrived, fell in with the prevailing fear and a new bench of special judges was sworn in. On the 30th of June Sarah Good, Rebeka Nurse, Susannah Martin, Elizabeth How and Sarah Wilder were brought to trial; all were found guilty, except Nurse, who, being a church member, was acquitted by the jury.

In her first trial Tituba, the slave, confessed that under threats from Satan, who had most often appeared to her as a man in black, accompanied by a yellow bird, she had tortured the girls, and named as her accomplices the two women, Good and Osborn. Tituba was sent to the Boston jail, where she remained until the delusion was over. She was then sold to pay the expenses of her imprisonment and is lost to history.

Within a few months several hundred people in Salem, and nearby places, were thrown into jail. On the 5th of August a new batch was haled before the court. They were as quickly convicted and sentenced and were hanged on Gallows Hill. It was not long before the jails were full. One hundred and fifty prisoners awaiting trial; two hundred more were accused or suspected.

Finally, on the second Wednesday in October, 1692, about a fortnight after the last hanging of eight in Salem, the representatives of the colonies assembled, and the people of Andover, their minister joining with them, appeared with their remonstrance against the doings of the witch tribunals. A reversal came at last. At the following trials the juries changed sooner than the judges, and they sooner than the clergy. At the January session of the court in 1693 only three were convicted, and they were reprieved, and in the spring, Governor Phips being about to leave the country, pardoned all who were condemned, and the jails were delivered. The excitement subsided as rapidly as it had arisen, but the evil work was done.

FAVORITE RECIPES OF DISTINGUISHED WOMEN

By MRS. WM. MORGAN SHUSTER
Wife of W. Morgan Shuster, Ex-Treasurer-General of Persia

Our Kentucky corn dodgers are famous among Kentuckians the world over and wherever you find a family from the Blue Grass state, you are pretty sure to see the corn dodgers on the table if there is any cornmeal in reach. This was forcibly impressed upon me on one occasion in the Philippines when traveling through the southern part of the island possessions while I was being shown through the home of an army acquaintance. The first thing that caught my eye on entering the kitchen were these noted corn dodgers. They reminded me of home and I remarked to my hostess that it was needless to ask from which of the states she came, as I knew it from the sight of the bread. She laughingly answered that she had something even better than the bread—a real Kentucky cook.

I make corn dodgers in this way:

Corn Dodgers.

Pour three-fourths of a pint of boiling water over one pint of (sifted) white meal. Add one teaspoonful of salt and a lump of lard the size of a walnut. Stir well. When cool, add enough cold sweet milk to make a stiff batter. Shape in oblong cakes, put them on a greased skillet and bake in the oven until brown.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON,
The Famous Prose Poet.

BROKEN VOWS.

"I'm sorroy to see you smoking cigars again," said Mrs. Jamesworthy. "When you swore off on New Year's day I hoped you would exercise your will power and never take up the bad habit again."

"Will power be hanged," replied Jamesworthy. "Will power has nothing to do with it. If I lived in a lodge in some vast wilderness, Mrs. Jamesworthy, I wouldn't give three whoops for all the cigars ever made. But I live in a city, in a teeming hive of industry, as you might say, and I have numerous friends whom I meet every day, and I either had to resume smoking or be bored to death.

"When a man swears off the facts always leak out somehow. No matter how cautious he may be, the truth is bruited abroad, and all the alecks make it their business to worry him and make him tired of his pledge. Before I swore off I hardly ever received a cigar as a gift. Now and then a stray candidate would come along and set up the excelsior smokes, but as a rule I always had to go to the wienerwurst store and buy my own stogies. But the scene was changed when I registered a solemn vow that I'd never smoke again. Everybody seemed to bulging with cigars all day long. Economy have cigars to give away after that. I couldn't walk a block on the public streets without meeting a man who insisted upon handing me a cheroot. My vest pockets were is ingrained in my nature. I come from a long line of Puritan ancestors who counted a penny eighteen times before spending it, and I simply couldn't stand it to see all those cigars going to waste.

"That was one reason why I resumed smoking. Another reason was that I couldn't endure the long line of shelf-worn jokes sprung on me every day. The man who swears off always has to suffer under such a visitation. There are sundry ancient jests touching the sworn off man which have been in constant use ever since Ananias quit prevaricating, and it is most annoying to have them flung in your teeth, even when your teeth are store made.

"I trust that these explanations are sufficient, Mrs. Jamesworthy, and that you will now resume your round of household duties with a tranquil mind. I might say in passing that it's just like a woman to talk of will power when her husband concludes to take up the consumption of cigars, after grave deliberation. A woman never swears off, although she ought to. It would be an excellent thing for you if you'd cut out the bridge parties and the club meetings, and all the diversions which keep you galivanting here and yonder. Also, if the truth must be told, you are becoming too corpulent for grace and beauty.

"Touching this last matter, I remember when you consulted the doctor a few weeks ago, and he told you that you would have to shun all greasy and starchy foods. He cautioned you particularly against ice cream. After receiving his instructions, you told me, with a Spartan demeanor, that you were going to live on cabbage and skim milk or perish in the attempt. You were bound to reduce your weight if dieting would do it.

"For a few days you lived on herbage and forage plants of various kinds, and I was admiring your courage, and wishing I had as much fortitude; but one day I came home in the middle of the afternoon, unexpectedly, and found you in the kitchen, laying waste a big brick of ice cream. The way you shoveled it into your countenance was a caution to coal heavers.

"Did I point the finger of scorn at you, Mrs. Jamesworthy? Did I make any incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial remarks about will power? I don't recall that I did. I sympathized with you and gave you words of encouragement, saying that if you were destined to get fat you would get fat, no matter what you ate. And after such an experience you have the nerve to talk to me about will power!"

"MORE BUSINESS."

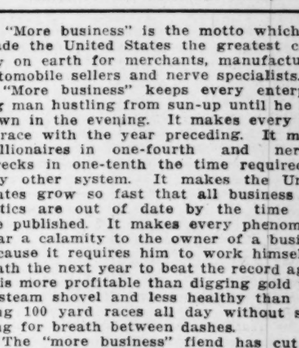

By GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

"More business" is the motto which has made the United States the greatest country on earth for merchants, manufacturers, automobile sellers and nerve specialists.

"More business" keeps every enterprising man hustling from sun-up until he runs down in the evening. It makes every year a race with the year preceding. It makes millionaires in one-fourth and nervous wrecks in one-tenth the time required by any other system. It makes the United States grow so fast that all business statistics are out of date by the time they are published. It makes every phenomenal year a calamity to the owner of a business because it requires him to work himself to death the next year to beat the record again. It is more profitable than digging gold with a steam shovel and less healthy than running 100 yard races all day without stopping for breath between dashes.

The "more business" fiend has cut the word "fail" out of his lexicon. He has also cut the words "content," "rest," "caution" and "lunch hour." He only recognizes the word "happiness" when he is formally introduced, because they live so far apart. "Happiness" lives away up the line somewhere, no one knows just where—probably where "more business" has become "all the business" and successful plans for doubling "all the business" in the next three years and of establishing a branch office on Mars have been worked out.

"More business" makes prosperity more dangerous than adversity in this country because each increase of business necessarily means a heroic effort to find capital to increase it still farther. When the United States becomes so prosperous that every factory has doubled its output and has bonded its debts in order to make the first payment on a plant which will increase the doubled output 101 per cent, it is time to put up storm warnings, rent the family automobile and clean out the cyclone cellar for immediate occupancy.

The "more business" fiend has cut the word "fail" out of his lexicon.

When a man has "more business" to such an extent that while he made $789,000 profit last year, he is depressed because his volume of business decreased .07 per cent he thinks he needs less legislation; but ten to one he needs less business.

GOVERNOR TO PAY TEACHERS TODAY

Warrant for $1,000,000 Will Be Drawn by Gov. Slaton to Pay Balance Due State Teachers for 1913.

Ruling that the revenue for 1913 is impressed with the payment of any balance due on the appropriations of 1913 before the payment of appropriations made for the current year, Governor Slaton will today draw his treasury warrant for $1,000,000, with which to pay the common school teachers the balance of the money due them for last year's work.

There was some contention between the teachers and the Confederate pensioners as to which class should be paid first. The ruling of the governor is clearly guided by the law, and it also follows the precedent set by Governor Brown when in office a year ago.

The Confederate pensioners were paid last February the money which had been appropriated to them for the year 1913. There is nothing due them on last year's account. On the other hand the teachers have not yet been paid for their last year's work, or rather a large proportion of the sum due them for 1913 is still in arrears.

Brittain's Letter.

The action of the governor followed a letter from State Superintendent M. L. Brittain to the effect that $1,000,000 in round numbers would be sufficient to pay the balance on last year's account. There are a number of counties which have not forwarded their statements yet and which will have to be paid later. Superintendent Brittain's letter follows:

"January 15, 1914—Governor John M. Slaton, State Capitol, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Governor: The itemized statements now on file at this department show that it will require $1,000,000 in round numbers to pay at this time the balance due the teachers of the state for 1913. Several counties have not forwarded their statements to date—possibly because of not being pressed for funds.

"You will recall that while you were acting governor your decision, in accord with that of Attorney General Hall, was that the law, in effect, required the payment of debts due for 1913 obligations from the taxes of that year before these funds could be used for expenses falling due in 1914.

"I respectfully urge, therefore, that you will authorize warrants for this $1,000,000 to pay these claims. Very truly,

M. L. BRITTAIN,

Reply of Governor.

The governor replied to the state superintendent of schools as follows:

"January 15, 1914—Hon. M. L. Brittain, State Superintendent of Schools—Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your requisition for $1,000,000 on school fund for 1913, which I have honored.

"You are correct in the statement that the revenue of 1913 is charged with the payment of teachers for the year 1913 before the pensions of 1914 can be paid therefrom. The pensions for the year, 1913, were paid in the spring of 1913.

"I understand your statement of the law to be correct. Very truly yours,

"JOHN M. SLATON,
"Governor."

As soon as the money reaches the hands of Mr. Brittain it will be distributed out among the various counties, in such sums as the statements of the county superintendents show that they are each entitled to.

Donaldson Brothers Will Act Together Without Friction

Discussion of the action of the board of county commissioners, who, on last Saturday, passed a resolution reorganizing the public works department of that body, is still rife.

Since the passage of the resolution, which promoted Si Donaldson, Captain T. J. Donaldson's brother, giving the latter the authority formerly held by Captain Tom, and making the latter superintendent of paving, wiseacres in county affairs have freely predicted the resignation of Captain Donaldson from the service and have forecasted a split between the two brothers.

However, it can be definitely stated that absolutely no friction exists between Captain Tom Donaldson and his brother Si.

While neither has made any public statement concerning the change in their official relationship, whatever Si Donaldson does will be followed by similar action on the part of Captain Tom.

In other words, if Si Donaldson accepts his new position, Captain Tom will take the new position offered him by the county commissioners.

If Si Donaldson should make up his mind in the next three or four days to refuse to accept the office of superintendent of public works, Captain Tom will also refuse the position of superintendent of paving.

The most cordial and affectionate relationship exists between the brothers, and they will "stand or fall together."

Neither has been as yet persuaded to make his sentiments known to the public in regard to their altered official positions, but persons who are thoroughly acquainted with them both state that they will act together and that whatever one does will be the action of both.

Diamonds Make the Best Kind of Investments

Diamonds have been so generally looked upon as a luxury that their investment value is often overlooked.

On purely a commercial basis, they are really better than real estate, stocks or bonds.

In the last ten years the best quality of diamonds have increased in value 175 per cent. The old law of supply and demand is going to make diamonds enhance in value steadily, for the supply is decreasing and the demand is increasing.

We sell diamonds on convenient monthly payments—sending them anywhere on approval, all express charges paid.

HALL NOT TO HANG; SENTENCED FOR LIFE

Slaton Followed Advice of the Prison Commission and Commutes Sentence.

Putting his action solely on the ground of the mental condition of the defendant, Governor Slaton yesterday commuted the sentence of I. B. Hall, who was to be hanged in Tifton today, to life imprisonment.

The following statement, issued by the governor, explains his reasons for exercising clemency:

"I. B. Hall was convicted of murder of Dennis Hall and sentenced to be hanged on Friday, January 16, 1914. The prison commission unanimously recommends commutation of sentence to life imprisonment. The twelve jurors who found the verdict state under oath that subsequent knowledge of facts coming to their attention since the trial cause them to join in asking executive clemency.

"I think the case one of murder. Under the evidence presented, the jury could not have properly found any other verdict. One consideration alone causes me to reluctantly assent to commutation of the punishment.

Ten Defectives in Family.

"The family history of the defendant shows that of eleven children, ten are defectives. One brother is now in the asylum, another committed suicide, a sister was in the asylum for several years; cousins are epileptics. Three physicians, one from the state sanitarium and two who have been family physicians, testify that at times the defendant was irresponsible and at other times normal. Former employers give testimony to the same effect. Every county officer of Tift county requests clemency, on account of doubts as to defendant's responsibility. The killing was the culmination of a row of several weeks' duration between two families residing in the same house. The cumulative effect of the court trials between them and personal controversies emphasized the mental weakness and may have magnified the apprehension of danger to defendant at the time of killing. Leading citizens of Tift county who are personally unfriendly to him urge his mental condition as reason for granting commutation.

Insanity Not Urged at Trial.

"The plea of insanity was not urged at the trial. Had it been, sustained by undoubted family history, I believe the recommendation to life imprisonment might have resulted. The case is not one for the asylum. Hall claims now and has always claimed that he is sane. The opinion of Dr. Baird is not in conflict with that of other physicians and I think his opinion absolutely correct and worthy of the high position he occupies in the profession. The ability of I. B. Hall to distinguish between right and wrong renders him liable to punishment. No changed condition since trial brings him within the statute requiring a commission of physicians.

"No practice of presenting one line of defense at trial and after conviction, urging another to the governor will be permitted, but able and ethical counsel acted in good faith, as evidenced by no attempt to obtain any postponement. This case presents the question whether under the peculiar facts I shall disagree with the unanimous recommendation of the three prison commissioners—not that defendant be pardoned—but that one punishment for murder be substituted for another. I do not feel justified in so doing and order the sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

(Signed) "JOHN M. SLATON,
Governor."

MOTHERS SEPARATED FROM BABES DURING MIX-UP OF TRAINS

Dalton, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—The disgorging of a train here this morning sent scores of people jabbering excitedly into the local depot, from which immediately arose almost a bedlam of sounds. Men were running to and fro and women were wailing and wringing their hands. Inquiry brought out the fact that the people composed a part of a colony of settlers on their way to Georgia to make their home, and who had been separated from their companions by the division of the train into two sections.

A number of mothers had left their babies asleep in a chair car and had gone back to the diner. The diner had been coupled on to another section of the train in Chattanooga, and while the mothers came on, the babies were left in Chattanooga, pending the making up of the second section.

Husbands, wives and children were separated and the utmost anxiety and confusion prevailed. The second section, however, soon, arrived, and the families were reunited.

RAYMOND FARMER KILLED BY A GASOLINE ENGINE

Lawrenceville, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Raymond Farmer, the 18-year-old son of W. Thomas Farmer, was killed by a gasoline engine while sawing wood at their home in Garner district Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Farmer lives at Bermuda, and while the young man was sawing wood for home use, for some unaccountable reason the engine got out of fix and started to run at an unusually high rate of speed. He startrted to the machine to shut it down, but before he reached it the drive pulley flew off and struck him on the head, crushing his skull and leaving his brains exposed.

Part of his scalp was found in the belt, which flew off and struck him, and was several yards from where the unfortunate young man fell.

Raymond lived several hours after the accident. Dr. McCurdy was called from Stone Mountain to minister to him, but the wounded man was beyond medical aid and expired shortly after dark.

Funeral services over the remains were held at Bethany Thursday, the exercises being in charge of Rev. J. P. McConnell.

PROF. W. J. M'KEMIE IS DEAD AT THOMASTON

West Point, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—J. C. McKemie, cashier of the Bank of West Point, has just received news of the death of his father, Professor W. J. McKemie, which occurred at his home in Thomaston last night. Professor McKemie was for many years superintendent of the West Point public schools, and was very popular. His death will be mourned by scores of friends and former pupils here. He was 86 years of age, and during the war was president of the college for young ladies at Lafayette, Ala., and had been prominent in educational circles for more than fifty years.

The funeral will take place in LaGrange tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The deceased is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Inslee, of New York, and Miss Florence McKemie, of Thomaston; W. S. McKemie, of Atlanta; J. C. McKemie, of West Point, and Gus McKemie, of Montgomery, Ala.

TRAFFIC IS RESUMED OVER CENTRAL ROAD

Macon, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Traffic over the Central of Georgia between Macon and Savannah was resumed at midnight tonight, after having been interrupted since Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the 500-foot trestle over the Oconee river, 35 miles east of Macon, burned. Three bridge gangs worked incessantly rebuilding the bridge, having appeared on the scene before the smoking embers had cooled. A number of the trains were annulled entirely, while others were detoured over the Southern railway and Seaboard Air Line.

INTERSTATE COMPANY ADMITS NO LIABILITY

Athens, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—In the suit of the receiver of the Athens Trust and Banking company against R. H. McCrary and the Interstate Casualty company, the bonding company does not admit any liability. An erroneous dispatch stated that the company held itself liable for the actual theft of a small part of the amount asked by the receiver, $20,000.

Former Atlanta Newsboy Comes Here as Pastor

Announcement was made yesterday by Bishop F. D. Leete, of the Methodist Episcopal church, that he had appointed Rev. A. B. Bourquard as the new pastor of Egelston Memorial church. Unusual interest attaches to the announcemenet. Mr. Bourquard, whose name is pronounced B-o-k-a-r, was at one time an Atlanta boy, and sold Constitutions on the streets of Atlanta twenty-five years ago. He was born in Virginia in 1877, and while he has spent nineteen years of his life in the south, he received his preparatory education at Marietta college, Marietta, Ohio, and later graduated from Ohio university and Drew Theological seminary with a B. D. degree.

In the past two years he has served important churches in Ohio, New Jersey and Wisconsin, from which latter conference he was transferred by Bishop Quayle at the request of Bishop Leete, to Atlanta. He has to his credit the building of several churches and other church properties. He comes to his new task highly qualified by experience in the development of the plans Bishop Leete has laid for his denomination in this city. In his letter consenting to the transfer, Bishop Quayle spoke in high terms of his pulpit ability, devotion and effective service.

Mr. Bourquard, it is stated, will take up his new work within two weeks. The pulpit of the church is being supplied temporarily by Dr. George H. Trevor.

Bright Fezes and Beautiful Gowns Make Fascinating Scene.

"Es Selamu Alelkum." This, said not like "good evening," or "howdy," or any mild, temperate salutation, but with a vigor and swagger, and spirit, which rang through the hospitality of the occasion, was the greeting of the nobles at the Shriners hall last evening, the largest ball in Atlanta's social history, and one of the most beautiful assemblages in the history of the Auditorium. A mysterious greeting it was to the lady guests, who were included in a company of 900, but they responded with smiles appreciative, for they knew it meant good humor and happiness—that was proven in the effect it seemed to have when the nobles met, and bouyantly and joyously said to one another, "Es Selamu Alelkum."

Even the debutantes caught the note in the greeting, and said it to one another, and anything else in the way of the Arabic, which they were told was the official language of the Yaarab patrol, and of all Shriners the world over.

A Beautiful Occasion.

The ball last night was the first large one given by the Yaarab temple, and promises to be an annual institution, as popular as the carnival balls, given each year in Mobile and New Orleans. "Why could we not have a pageant to precede the ball, as they do in these cities?" asked many a lady guest last evening. No one better than the Shriners could inaugurate such a feature, which might be Atlanta's annual civic event, with nobles all over the state doing their part, for last night there was a large representation at the ball of well-known men and women from many sections of Georgia, who came to participate in the brilliant occasion.

The Shriners wore the official costume for state events, which is the dress suit, red tie and fez, the latter headgear never removed. It is the distinguishing badge of the noble. It means he has qualified, crossed the desert first by himself and then as escort and helper to many others, and he would part with it last of all his worldly possession, except the crescent insignia of the shrine, which nobles wear with pride.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Adair, he the potentate of the shrine, and the officials of the patrol, with their wives, were in the receiving party, the various committees including:

Executive Committee—Captain J. O. Seamans, chairman; Lieutenant Homer Ashford, Lieutenant F. E. Van der Veer, George E. Argard, L. H. Geiger, E. D. Tompkins, J. L. Grice, C. E. Quarles, A. T. Akers, John A. Hines, past potentate; Walter P. Andrews, president of the Patrol association; George E. Argard, secretary of the Patrol association; W. O. Stamps, treasurer of the Patrol association; J. O. Seamans, captain of the Patrol; Homer Ashford, first lieutenant; F. E. Van der Veer, second lieutenant. Publicity committee, L. H. Geiger, chairman; G. W. Woods, George Freeman, S. R. Sommers. Finance committee, George E. Argard, chairman; O. L. Teasley, Cliff C. Lochridge, R. E. Church. Donating committee, E. D. Tompkins, chairman; E. S. Gay, Jr., A. B. Rogers, E. E. Cunningham, M. E. McGee, G. I. Butler, R. S. Osborne, E. H. Frederick. Program committee, J. L. Grice, chairman; Frank Cundell, H. H. Milner, A. B. Chapman, L. A. Walker, C. E. Lemke, J. H. Crawford. Music committee, C. E. Quarles, chairman; Louis Stahl, W. D. Benson, T. J. Monroe, Grady Walker. Printing committee, Homer Ashford, chairman; H. H. Green, T. A. Mixon, C. W. Hughes, A. T. Timm, W. F. Aiken, C. E. Barber. Floor committee, J. L. Grice, chairman; F. M. Brotherton, John Terrell, D. M. Meadows, W. D. Waitt, C. W. Ferguson, M. W. Baker, W. A. Upchurch. Refreshment committee, A. T. Akers, chairman; L. S. Crane, M. N. Mixon, C. W. Ferguson, J. C. Wright, H. H. Milner, W. C. Zellers, Laurence Everhardt.

Music and Dancing.

Two bands of music supplied accompaniment for the dancing, which began at 9 o'clock. Its continuance and pleasure demonstrated the popularity of the dance as it holds now old and young, there being seen on the floor last night fathers and sons and mothers and daughters all enjoying the same Terpsichorian gayety. "The Hesitation, the tango, the "wave," the old two-step, the glide waltz, the "Boston and the "one-step" all were enjoyed before and after supper. Supper, an elegant repast, was served in Taft hall and afforded opportunity for "after dinner speaking" which brought out an oratory and eloquence routing forever the theory recently expressed by some dull thinker that oratory was on the wane. Toasts were proposed by nobles to potentates present and past, and by potentaes to nobles, and then by both potentates and nobles to the ladies, with that "God bless them all" spirit, which crowns the chivalrous side of all notable occasions

The Decorations.

The decorations in the main entrance or foyer of the Auditorium, Taft hall and every apartment on the first floor of the spacious building, combined with national and state flags, the insignia of the Shriners, their colors, and a wilderness of foliage and flowers.

Flags hung from the walls and were festooned around the columns in the entrance, and there was a huge crescent and sword of gold, the Shriner insignia, placed on the column directly within the entrance.

Taft hall was hung with flags. The state seal and coat of arms were conspicuously placed and on each column there was a decoration of bamboo and red flowers and a Shriner pennant. The stage upon which the musicians were placed was latticed in, the lattices hung with bamboo and red flowers. The same decoration made picturesque the table from which punch was served. In the corners of the room palms were banked, and there were bay trees and potted fern, giving a finishing touch to the background of green.

MRS. KESSELL VICTIM OF SPURIOUS NOTE

Thearrest ofg Mrs. E. Kessell ,a middle-aged landlady, was the chief development yesterday in the search detectives are making to capture a gang of counterfeiters who have invaded Atlanta, flooding the city with spurious twenty-dollar notes.

Mrs. Kessell is said to have forwarded one of the "queer" twenties to a downtown department store in payment of a bill. She was merely detained by the police at the courthouse while an investigation was made. Upon learning that she was only a victim of the counterfeiting gang, the police released her.

Mrs. Kessell was able to give a good description of the man who imposed the spurious note upon her. He is believed to be the chief crook and, according to the woman, gave the name of William H. Hyden, of Chicago.

Landladies of boarding houses have been the chief victims of the gang. Mrs. Kessel stated that she had been visited by Hyden Wednesday, when he came to obtain lodging at her residence, 29 South Pryor street. He made a $5 deposit on the room, receiving $15 in change. He has never since returned.

The counterfeit notes are manufactured, not "raised." They are expert copies and only a trained eye can detect the fraud. The police believe they are being uttered by an organized gang of counterfeiters who have come from the northern cities where the notes are manufactured.

LABOR OFFICIALS ON M'CONNELL'S PROGRAM

"Organized labor will have its inning Sunday night," is the way that Dr. Lincoln McConnell, of the Baptist Tabernacle, made public his announcement, on Thursday night, that next Sunday night's service at his church would be turned over to members of labor unions in this city, who would be given a chance to state the basic truths of their cause.

Among those who will appear on the platform with Dr. McConnell will be Jerome Jones, editor of the local trade paper, and Jesse Armistead, head of the local typographical union.

A special musical program has been arranged by the Tabernacle choir for the occasion and it is expected that a great number of the local trades unionists will attend the services.

Tonight Dr. McConnell speaks at the Inman Park Baptist church, delivering the second in a course of five lectures at that place.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Inman Park church has charge of the lectures and the funds will go toward erecting a new church home.

WILSON DOESN'T CREDIT TRADE WAR REPORT

Washington, January 15.—President Wilson told inquirers today that he did not believe the report that Great Britain and Germany were united in a trade war in South America against the United States. When published articles on that subject were informally called to the president's attention, he pronounced them baseless, so far as any information this government has on the subject is concerned, and expressed an unwillingness to credit the possibilty.

100 WITNESSES CALLED IN JUDGE SPEER'S CASE

Judge and His Counsel Will Be Allowed to Ask Questions as Matter of Courtesy.

Washington, January 15.—Inquiry into charges of official irregularities against Federal Judge Speer, of the southern district of Georgia, will not be a trial and Judge Speer and his counsel will be permitted to ask question of witnesses as a matter of courtesy, according to Chairman Webb, of the house judiciary subcommittee. The inquiry will be aimed to ascertain if there is a prima facie case established, such as would warrant the judiciary committee in recommending an impeachment trial. No elaborate cross-examination will be permitted.

Mr. Webb will leave tomorrow for North Carolina and will meet the remainder of the committee at Macon next Monday, when the inquiry is begun. Approximately 100 witnesses will be heard, the expectation being that the investigation will occupy about three weeks. Judge Speer may be one of the early witnesses.

CHINAMAN MADE SLAVE OF PARSON'S DAUGHTER

Seattle, Wash., January 15.—Harry Toy, a wealthy Chinese merchant, who was accused of having made a slave of Goldie Goodell, white, daughter of a Portland, Ore., clergyman, was found guilty last night by a jury in the federal court on six counts of violating the Mann white slave law.

Miss Goodell, who the government alleged was lured from Portland to Seattle by Toy, is a sister of Toy's deceased wife, formerly a Portland mission worker.

The defense did not introduce any evidence, seeking acquittal on the ground that the case did not come within the meaning of the Mann act.

MRS. J. P. HARP DIES IN EIGHTY-SIXTH YEAR

Mrs. Rebecca D. Harp died Thursday in her eighty-sixth year at her home, 191 Foundry street. Old age is the cause given for her death. Her life has been one of happiness and contentment. She was a memebr of the Primitive Baptist church for fifty years prior to her death. For the last thirty-three years she has been a widow. She was the mother of eight children, and is survived by six. Her body will be carried this morning to Thomaston, Ga., for interment. Her many warm friends will regret the loss of one of Atlanta's most adored pioneer old ladies.

Mrs. Harp was the widow of the late Dr. J. P. Harp. Her surviving children are: Mrs. T. C. Abercrombie, Mrs. Eddie Pritchett, Mrs. Anna E. Means and H. D. and W. O Harp, of Thomaston, Ga., and Alonzo J. Harp, of Atlanta; also by one sister, Mrs. W. H. Holcomb, of Atlanta.

SAY MOVIE THEATER HAD CROWDED EXITS

Manager Murray, of Alamo, to Face Recorder on Charge of Patrolman Pierson.

That the police will not tolerate unlawful crowding of fire exits in the moving picture theaters and other amusement places was shown yesterday when Patrolman Paul B. Pierson docketed a case against W. T. Murray, manager of Alamo Theaters Nos. 1 and 2.

Pierson had stepped in the Alamo No. 2, while off duty, to attend the performance. For several minutes, he declares, he was forced to stand in the aisle in the rear of the theater until a seat was vacated for him. Following the show he notified the management and served Murray with a copy of charges.

Police officials were a unit in expressing their intention to prevent fire disasters in the theaters of the city by compelling house managements to keep all aisles and fire exits cleared of obstruction.

Murray's case will be heard before Recorder Nash R. Broyles at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning. He declared last night that he had endeavored since the opening of both theaters to keep all passageways cleared and, except in unavoidable instances, had been able to do so successfully.

One Woman's Sacrifice In the Cause of Music

To postpone for two weeks an ideal trip to Florida is one Atlanta woman's evidence of interest in the forthcoming concert by the Philharmonic Orchestra of the Atlanta Musical association, which is to be given on Thursday, the 29th, at the Atlanta.

Her plans already made for the middle of January, she read the announcement several days ago of the date of the January concert, and straightaway postponed departure.

The program will be well worth waiting for, since it will include the two great Beethoven masterpieces, the Symphony No. 5, and the Overture No. 3 (Leonore), both expressions of the highest, truest art, in the one language that is universal.

The first half of the program will be Coleridge-Taylor's setting of "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," by the chorus, tenor soloist and orchestra.

Col. and Mrs. Lowry Give Dinner In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. M'Burney

Colonel and Mrs. Robert J. Lowry entertained sixteen guests at dinner at the Piedmont Driving club last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McBurney. The occasion was a beautiful and brilliant one. Dinner was served in the rose room of the Driving club, where there was a background of living green in the plants placed against the wall. The table, oblong in shape, had as a centerpiece a mirror upon which rested a slipper of enchantress carnations; blending with the carnations, sweetpeas in their more delicate shadings. The mirror was bordered with the sweetpeas and maidenhair fern, and crystal vases, placed near the corner of the table, were filled with the same flowers, the slender stems of the vases being tied with bows of Dresden blue ribbon.

The candlesticks had shades of crystal reflecting the Dresden colors, and the appointments all were exquisitely dainty. The souvenirs for the gentlemen were black moire card cases finished in silver, while the ladies received white boxes painted in orange blossoms and holding miniature bride cakes.

Orange blossoms decorated the cases from which the ices were served, and the little prize packets at each place were decorated in the same symbolic flowers and held bluebird rigs and flower pins. The cakes and bonbons were in a design of orange blossoms.

Toasts of eloquent expression were proposed to Mrs. McBurney, the honor guest of the evening, whose first appearance it was in Atlanta since her marriage in December.

Mrs. Lowry's elegant gown was of pearl colored satin. The panier draperies of silver threaded net were overlaid with rose point lace of beautiful pattern; the corsage was of the same lace, and the ceinture of the Dresden colors was threaded in silver.

Mrs. McBurney was a lovely figure in white, her gown of crepe de chine embroidered in silver and finished with point lace.

Miss Willingham's Tea.

Miss Emmie Willingham was hostess at a large tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Piedmont avenue in compliment to Miss Edith Dunson, a bride-elect.

Ferns and palms, in artistic arrangement, with pink roses and narcissi, decorated the house. A basket of pink roses and narcissi formed the centerpiece of the tea table in the dining room. The candle shades and all other details of the pretty table were in pink.

Misses Marion Dunson, Helen McCarty and Naomi Jemison poured tea. Misses Marion and Sarah Colcord and Miss Elizabeth Picard presided at the punch bowl in the hall. Miss Willingham wore a gown of blue crepe de chine and lace. Miss Dunson was gowned in blue crepe meteor with draperies of lace and trimmed in rhinestones, and she wore a corsage bouquet of pink roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. B. L. Willingham received with her daughter and Miss Dunson, and assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Julian Prade, Mrs. A. R. Colcord, Mrs. Thomas Daniel, Mrs. W. B. Willingham, Miss Elizabeth Dunson, Miss Mary Blalock, Miss Theodosia Willingham, Miss Mignon McCarty and Miss Gladys Dunson.

There were about two hundred callers during the receiving hours.

Club Entertained.

The guests included Miss Rosa Belle Chapman, Miss Gladys Catchings, Miss Pearl Parks, Miss Virginia Ribble, Miss Jennielu Lindsey, Miss Bernice Schuessler, Miss Edith Tanner, Miss Ruth Tanner, Miss Caro Sharp, Miss Lillian Williamson, Miss Willie Asher, Miss Bessie Small, Miss Myrtle Powers, Miss Lucile Dennis, Mrs. Everett Giffen, Mrs. Raymund Daniel, Mrs. Jasper Bell, Mrs. W. C. Coles, Mrs. Frank Earl Markel, Mrs. Lester Fosdick, Mrs. Emerson Ham, Mrs. William Kriegshaber and Mrs. John Candler.

Miss Cobb to Give Reading.

Miss Carolyn Cobb, of Athens, will give a reading, "As a Man Thinks," in the vestry of the temple on Pryor street on Monday evening, January 26, at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Temple Sisterhood.

Japanese Tea.

The Ladies' Missionary society of the Gordon Street Presbyterian church will give a Japanese tea at the residence of the pastor, Rev. Arnold Hall, No. 8 Ontario avenue, West End Park, on Friday evening from 8 to 11 o'clock. The decorations and costumes will be Japanese and a very pleasant evening is assured all who attend. There will be no charge for admission; however, a silver offering will be taken for the cause of foreign missions. Orchestra, also vocal selections will be rendered, rounding out a full musical program. The public is invited.

Kaffe Klatch.

A kaffe klatch will be given this afternoon by the Temple Sisterhood in the vestry of the temple, on Pryor street, at 3 o'clock. The occasion will be a delightful one, and a large attendance is invited. The small sum of 25 cents will be asked, the proceeds to be used for charitable purposes.

For Mrs. Raymond Daniel.

Mrs. W. D. White will entertain at a forty-two party this afternoon at her home in Inman Park in compliment to Mrs. Raymond Daniel, a recent bride. The guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bell, Mrs. Fay Wilson, Mrs. L. C. Carmichael, Mrs. C. W. Coates, Mrs. C. W. Rosenbouch, Mrs. J. H. Taylor, Mrs. R. C. Henderson, Mrs. Frank Markel, Mrs. R. W. Cameron, Mrs. Calvin Green, Mrs. Mercer Fain, Mrs. Chris Rauschenberg, Jr., Mrs. John Hamilton, Mrs. M. W. Cameron, Miss Mildred Harris, Miss Louise Dull, Miss Nora Fleming and Miss Kate Baker. Mrs. Fay Wilson and Mrs. R. C. Henderson will assist Mrs. White in entertaining.

For Miss King.

Dr. and Mrs. Maxwell Thebaut will entertain at an informal dance next Tuesday evening at their home for Miss Louise King, who leaves Wednesday to resume her studies at Washington college, Washington, D. C.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. James H. Gilbert entertained at afternoon tea yesterday in compliment to Mrs. I. S. Boyd and Miss Elizabeth Boyd, and the occasion was one of informal enjoyment.

Buffet Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Palmer entertained the members of their family connection last night at a buffet supper at their home in Ansley Park in celebration of their second wedding anniversary.

The guests included Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. John Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence May, Mrs. Louise Spalding Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Spalding, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Connally, Mrs. Annie Mays Dow and Dr. and Mrs. Marion Benson.

To Mrs. Mason.

Mrs. Willie Kate Travis gave a beautiful luncheon yesterday at the Captial City club in compliment to Mrs. Julian Mason, who was Miss Kate Howell.

Mr. and Mrs. Seely In Washington.

Grove, Park Inn, Asheville, N. C., January 15.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Seely, of Grove Park Inn, Asheville, N. C., left Tuesday for Washington, D. C. They were accompanied by their children, and after a week's stay there, will go to Sea Breeze, Fla., for two months. Mr. and Mrs. Seely went to Washington to attend a dinner party on Friday evening which the secretary of state and Mrs. Bryan give, and which President and Mrs. Wilson will attend. Mrs. Seely was a neighbor of Mrs. Wilson's in Princeton a number of years ago and knows her well. They were invited to be house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, but on account of taking the children, they have taken a suite at the Shoreham.

To Mrs. McBurney.

Mrs. John M. Slaton will entertain at luncheon today at the mansion in compliment to Mrs. E. P. McBurney.

Among the invited guests will be Mrs. Frank Swift, of New York; Mrs. Linton C. Hopkins, Mrs. Robert Cotton Alston, Mrs. Frank S. Ellis, Mrs. Allan Whitaker, Mrs. Reid Hobson, Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman, Mrs. W. D. Manley, Mrs. Bolling Jones, Mrs. Frank Hawkins, Mrs. Charles Conklin and Mrs. William D. Grant.

Governor and Mrs. Slaton have also issued cards to a dinner party next Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. McBurney.

To Mrs. Hines.

One of the prettiest events in a season of luncheon parties was the luncheon yesterday at which Mrs. Richard W. Johnston was hostess.

The ladies were assembled to meet her guest, Mrs. Richard Hines, of Macon, and they were seated at a table artistic in its decoration. The centerpiece was of pink roses, violets and hyacinths, and their colors were repeated in pretty detail. The places were marked by French bisque figures.

Mrs. Leverett Walker will entertain at bridge this afternoon at the Driving club in compliment to Mrs. Hines and Mrs. Marshall Johnston.

To Miss Chenault.

Mrs. Rix Stafford entertained delightfully at 5 o'clock tea yesterday, inviting fourteen young women of the debutante set to meet Miss Sarah Chenault, of Lexington, Ky., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Keats Speed.

The tea table was picturesque in pink and white, the centerpiece, a basket of roses.

To Mrs. Camblos.

Mrs. Norwood Mitchell entertained twenty guests at luncheon yesterday, the occasion being one of elegant appointment and the happiest hospitality.

Mrs. James L. Camblos, a recent charming addition to the young married set, was guest of honor.

Electa Chapter.

The regular meeting of Electa Chapter, No. 6, of the Order of the Eastern Star, will be held at the Masonic temple this evening, at 7:30 o'clock. All members have been urged to be present.

To College Set.

Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R.

The first regular meeting of the new year of the Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., was held yesterday afternoon at the chapter house on Piedmont avenue.

The annual election of officers was held. Mrs. James O. Wynn, by a unanimous vote, succeeded herself as regent; Mrs. David Woodward, first vice-regent; Mrs. George M. Hope, second vice regent; Mrs. W. T. Healey, recording secretary; Mrs. E. D. Kennedy, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. D. Crane, treasurer; Mrs. W. Woods White, registrar; Mrs. R. M. Walker, librarian; Mrs. J. T. Womble, historian; Miss Dogma Sams, genealogist. Dr. Hugh Walker was re-elected chaplain.

The new members of the executive board are Mrs. Willis Everett, Mrs. Eula Griffin, Mrs. E. R. Kirke, Mrs. Georgia McMichael, Mrs. Wallace Kirkpatrick, Miss Nellie Bowen, Mrs. E. L. Connally and Mrs. C. B. Walker.

The following members were elected as delegates to Washington: Mrs. James O. Wynn and Mrs. Bolling Jones, Mrs. C. G. Matthews and Mrs. J. B. Roberts.

Among the alternates appointed were Mrs. W. P. Pattillo, Mrs. Grant Wilkins, Mrs. A. A. Little, Mrs. James R. Gray, Miss Alice Baxter, Mrs. E. R. Kirke, Mrs. Charles Rice, Mrs. Josephine Earnest Purse.

After the business meeting Mrs. Charles Craigie, of Brooklyn, N. Y., charmed the audience with a short talk on the splendid work being accomplished by the D. A. R. Mrs. Craigie is a distinguished visitor in the city who is a member of the American Society for the Advancement of Science which recently met here.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a beautiful jewel regent's pin to Mrs. Wynn as a token of appreciation from the chapter.

Mrs. W. Woods White introduced Hon. John Temple Graves who, in his usual happy manner, presented the pin to Mrs. Wynn on behalf of the chapter. The increase in growth of the chapter in the past year has been marked, and among its several hundred members are many of the most prominent women of the city.

ENTIRE BIBLE IN ONE SERMON BY DR. DOBYNS

"A Comprehensive Review of the Entire Bible" is the theme announced by Dr. W. R. Dobyns, of St. Joseph, Mo., for a unique sermon at 5 o'clock Sunday—the closing day of the two weeks' revial that has been in progress at the North Avenue Presbyterian church. The sermon is one that Dr. Dobyns has delivered on several occasions before, and each time it has attracted wide attention; many people have suggested that it be published in book form.

"Dr. Dobyns' sermons of the past ten days at the North Avenue church have been of a scholarly and deeply interesting nature, reflecting the years of close and analytical study he has spent on the Bible. His Sunday afternoon address will be of an educational character, rather than evangelistic. He will also speak at the morning and evening services on Sunday.

Special services for the young people will be conducted at 11 o'clock on Friday and Satuday. Dr. Dobyns will deliver a sermon at each of these meetings.

ATLANTA HOTELS CAN CARE FOR ALL COMERS

Atlanta, perhaps, has "the record of the south" in adequacy for entertainment of visitors. Thursday was the banner day in the history of the Hotel Ansley, nand it was proved that Atlanta could take care of any sort of convention that might be brought here.

At noon every one of the 306 rooms in the hotel was full, and eleven distinctly different events took place during the day and night. There were four conventions, one tea party and one wedding dinner, the latter, for lack of additional public and private dining rooms, being served in a private parlor.

There were three dinners in progress Thursday night during the hours when the cafeand rathskeller were taking care of the large transient custom.

Atlanta's splendid system of hotels are now prepared to handle the immense crowds that will attend the grand opera in April, the Shriners' meet in May and the Photographers' convention.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE NAMED BY CHAMBER

SAVANNAH IS CHOSEN FOR U. D. C. CONVENTION

Savannah, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Savannah has been selected as the convention city for the United Daughters of the Confederacy. The convention, which will be held in November, will bring to this city about 1,000 delegates from all over the south.

G. W. JORDAN IS ELECTED MAYOR OF HAWKINSVILLE

Hawkinsville, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—The following ticket was elected today to serve the city the next two years: Mayor, G. W. Jordan; aldermen, W. W. Poole, R. R. DeLamar and W. O. Jelks.

THREE TAX EQUALIZERS NAMED FOR DEKALB CO.

Decatur, Ga., January 15.—(Special.) F. Lee Hudgins, W. J. Williams and H. C. Pendleton have been appointed tax equalizers for DeKalb county under the law passed by the Georgia legislature. These live respectively at Cross Keys, Lithonia and Clarkston.

Woodland Officials Sworn.

Woodland, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—At the regular meeting of council last night the new mayor and council were sworn in for the year 1914. W. T. Smith took the oath as mayor and the following councilmen took the oath: S. W. Woodall, C. B. Foster, W. B. Jordan, W. W. Collier and W. J. Brady. Mr. Smith has been mayor three different times in the last seven years, and was elected at the regular election the first Monday in January over his protest.

Dr. Lovejoy Preaches.

Dr. W. P. Lovejoy, presiding elder of the Methodist church, will preach Sunday morning at the old Methodist church at Avon avenue, Oakland City, after which the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. The public has been invited to attend. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the quarterly conference will be held.

ALTAMAHA BRIDGE OPEN TO PUBLIC ON FEBRUARY 15

Brunswick, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Announcement was made today by officials of the Georgia Coast and Piedmont railroad that the Darien-Brunswick extension would be formally opened on February 15, at which time the first regular train will be operated and a schedule put into effect.

This extension, though only 13 miles in length, is one of the greatest pieces of railroad construction ever attempted in the south, crossing, as it does, the Altamaha river, two or three large separate bridges being necessary, one of which is the largest in the state of Georgia. To extend this road to Brunswick has cost the company, it is stated, upwards of $600,000.

Simultaneously with the opening of the new railroad, the Altamaha bridge will be opened to automobile traffic and this will furnish the missing link in the great highway from the north to Florida. Heretofore it has been necessary for automobiles bound south to be ferried for a distance of seven miles from Darien to the Glynn county line, it requiring often an hour or more to make the trip. The G. C. & P. has prepared to handle this heavy auto traffic, and an engine, purchased especially for the purpose, will be maintained at all times and only a few minutes will be required to make the trip across the river.

Miss Adele Snowden Is Sponsor-in-Chief For Sons of Veterans

B. H. Richardson, of Macon, commander of the Georgia Division of the Sons of Veterans, has made public his names of those who will be on his staff, as well as the official ladies of the order for 1914.

The list follows:

Staff—J. H. Palmer, Macon, adjutant and chief of staff; Thomas Purse, Savannah, division inspector; H. H. Arrington, Rome, division quartermaster; F. J. Payne, Americus, division commissary; Augustus Daly, Macon, division judge advocate; T. J. McArthur, Cordele, division surgeon; Rev. J. E. Russell, Dalton, division chaplain.

Brigade Commanders—John S. Cleghorn, Summerville, first brigade; John W. Blunt, Macon, second brigade; John C. Pottle, Milledgeville, third brigade; Dr. T. S. Clay, Savannah, fourth brigade; W. M. Wilder, Albany, fifth brigade.

MRS. JOHN ASHLEY JONES DIES AT TRION, GA.

News of the death of Mrs. Maude Allgood Jones, wife of John Ashley Jones, of Atlanta, which occurred Thursday evening at Trion, Ga., came as a shock to her friends in Atlanta and to those of her family.

She was visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Maude Allgood, and her death was very sudden, the result of heart disease.

She is survived by her husband, her daughter, Miss Mary Allgood Jones, and her mother.

Mrs. Jones was the daughter of the late Judge A. P. Allgood, founder of the Trion mills at Trion, Ga., and in her young ladyhood she was a noted belle and an expert howsewoman. Mr. Jones is a prominent official with the New York Life Insurance company.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced, but the interment will probably be in Rome.

ANOTHER WARM DAY IS ON THE CALENDAR

Another day of warm and fair weather is promised Atlanta for today.

There will be no clouds in the sky, say the weather observers, nor will any chill winds make the pretty girls wish that tube skirts were out of fashion.

The return of warm weather in this vicinity is marked by increased business among the downtown merchants.

One of the merchants said on Thursday that an hour of sunshine in Atlanta was worth ten dollars' worth of bargains in any mercantile establishment.

"When the skies are dark, shoppers will not come out," is the way he expressed it.

The entire south is up and doing, so far as the good weather map shows just now. There are traces of approaching nasty weather, but the traces are as yet very dim.

New Bottling Works.

Eastman, Ga., January 15.—(Special.) J. F. Harrell, who has been running the Crown Bottling works in Abbeville for some time, has moved his plant to Eastman and has located his plant in the S. Herrman building on Third avenue. James M. Cooper and Mathew P. Cooper have sold their plant to the Helena Bottling works, which company will establish a plant in this city.

J. Y. SMITH ANNOUNCES TO SUCCEED BROYLES

Legislature Member From Fulton Is Candidate for Recorder.

The first of what is expected to be a veritable flood of announcements of candidates who will seek the place to be left vacant by Judge Nash Broyles, in the recorder's court, was made on Thursday, when John Y. Smith, the well known Atlanta attorney, and member of the state legislature, gave out a signed statement in which he declared he would make the race for judge of the police court.

Attorney Smith, in making his declaration, said that outside of the bare announcement, which he had cerfully prepared, he would have nothing to say at this time as to how he would conduct his campaign.

Since the announcement, made some time ago, that Judge Broyles would make the race for the appellate bench, several persons have been quoted as stating that under certain conditions they might make the race for the recorder vacancy.

Robert Blackburn, also a member of the state legislature from Fulton county; Philip Weltner and B. Lee Smith have been pointed out as possible candidates.

The name of John Y. Smith has been faintly echoed as a recordership possibility, but until yesterday no statement was made of a positive nature.

That the recordership race will be warmly contested is already evidenced. Should Philip Weltner, now county probation officer, as well as secretary of the Georgia Prison association, enter the list, it is known that he will add spice to the fight, as he has stated on various occasions that "reform of the methods now practiced in police court were necessary before Atlanta could take her place in the list of well conducted cities."

The selection of a recorder is still somewhat remote, as the elections do not fall until well into the summer. The interest which will probably now be shown by avowed candidates for the recordership will probably be long dranwn out, as well as acrimonious at times.

BRUNSWICK INSPECTED FOR LIGHTHOUSE SITE

Brunswick, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Brunswick's harbor was today inspected by Assistant Secretary of the Department of Commerce Sweet and Lighthouse Commissioner Putnam, who are making a tour of several South Atlantic ports in connection with the headquarters of the sixth lighthouse district, which are probably to be removed from Charleston to some other port more centrally and conventently located.

The officials spent quite a busy day in Brunswick. During the forenoon they were tendered an automobile ride to various points of interest in the city, inspected proposed sites for the headquarters and looked over the local federal building, where the headquarters of the lighthouse district would be temporarily located in the event Brunswick is selected. After this inspection, the officials, accompanied by a number of local business men, left on the lighthouse tender Mangrove for an inspection trip over the harbor. Various water front property was visited, the terminals of the A., B. & A. and Southern railway were inspected and the party then continued to Jekyl island, where a luncheon was served, the party returning to the city this afternoon.

"Pape's Diapepsin" Digests Food When Stomach Can't. Cures Indigestion.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

SOUND SLEEP GOOD APPETITE

Lady Tells of Great Benefit Women Would Receive by Following Her Example.

Renfroe, Ala.—"I want to make a statement for publication," says Mrs. Ollie Owens, of this place, "as it may be the means of relieving some poor, suffering woman.

I suffered terribly for years with many serious womanly troubles, and became so weak and nervous I could hardly do anything. I had headaches, pains in my back and sides, and was always going to the doctor, but never felt well.

Finally, my husband bought me two bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic. I commenced taking it, according to directions, and began feeling better. I am now on my eighth bottle, and feel better than I have in years. I sleep soundly, have a good appetite, and no more pains.

I never get tired of telling what your medicine has done for me, and I am sure it will help other suffering women, as it did me.

Cardui, the woman's tonic, and Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine, are the only medicines we keep in the house."

If you suffer from any of the troubles so common to weak women, Try Mrs. Owen's advice—take Cardui.

For more than 50 years, Cardui has been used with entire satisfaction, by thousands of weak and ailing women. It will surely help you, too.

Sure, Safe Way To Banish Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)

The electric treatment for removing hairy growths is rapidly falling into disuse since it has been found that a thick paste made with powdered delatone and water gives more satisfactory results and works much quicker. This delatone paste is applied to the objectionable hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes it is rubbed off and with it comes every trace of hair. Washing the skin to free it from the remaining delatone leaves it soft and spotless. Buying the delatone in an original package insures strength and purity.—(adv.)

"STORIES ABOUT STARS"

Number 4.

By Billy Evans.

Decisions of the umpire create a diversity of opinion. Very often such decisions cause loud and long protests on the field of battle. In some cases it is necessary for the umpire to banish a number of the athletes before he is able to restore order. The home team kicks when the close plays go against them, the visitors rave when they believe they are being handed the worst of it. Until last year I didn't believe any decision in the major leagues had ever been overruled, but I learned to the contrary.

Right or wrong the home team accepts all close plays that come their way. Captain Anson, of the Chicago club, is the only exception to this rule in the game. It so happens that Clarke Griffith, now manager of the Washington club, was the gentleman who made the decision that Anson refused to accept. Griffith told of the play one day last summer, while the Cleveland and Washington clubs were waiting for their train, after having jumped from Washington to play a Sunday game.

"The umpires failed to show for a game in Chicago," said Griffith, "and Anson selected me as the Chicago player to do part of the umpiring. A play came up at first base, in which I declared the visiting player out. I thought I had rendered the proper decision, but from the kick that resulted, a lot of other people must have had a different opinion. The visiting players kicked hard but I stood my ground, told them I had made my decision and it stood. Imagine my surprise when I heard Anson say to the captain of the visiting club:

"'Come on; quit kicking and start the game. The man was safe. I know it. He is going to stay there.'

"The game was resumed, with the man whom I declared out being allowed to stay at first. Later he scored and that run helped defeat us. As an umpire, therefore, I believe I hold a record, in having a decision in favor of the home team overruled by the leader of that club."

GEORGIA QUINT HAS HARD LIST OF GAMES

Athens, Ga., January 15.—(Special.) The defeat of the strong local Y. M. C. A. basketball five by the University bunch in their first appearance of the season here is indicative of what a fine exhibition may be expected on the midwinter home series and the trip games.

The result was 47 to 20, and Coach Howell Peacock flung in half a dozen second five men to give them practice. The Y. M. C. A. had such men as Liddell, Hendren, Link, Bond, Woods and Brown.

The Georgia five and reserves are composed of Peacock, Lester, Brand, manager; Carter, captain; Rawson, Steve Crump, Rothschilds, Flournoy and Brown.

January 24—Atlanta at Atlanta.
January 26—Auburn at Auburn.
January 30—Savannah at Savannah.
January 31—Augusta at Augusta.
February 5—Vanderbilt at Athens.
February 13—Tech at Athens.
February 20—Open date.
February 26—Tech at Atlanta.
February 27—Columbus at Columbus.

Games have been talked of on a trip to the north, also with North Carolina and South Carolina teams.

German Parliament Votes Against Appropriating to Olympic Games at Berlin

Berlin, January 15.—The budget committee of the imperial parliament today rejected a proposition to appropriate $50,000 for the Olympic games to be held here in 1916.

Rejection of the appropriation was due largely to the feeling of resentment prevailing among the socialists over the government's alleged systematic persecution of the workingmen's gymnastic societies.

The socialist deputies voted in a body against the appropriation, and the clericals joined them, declaring that it was no business of the empire to support such "private affairs." The Polish deputies made up the remainder of the adverse majority.

Clemens Delbrueck, minister of the interior, energetically defended the proposed appropriation. It will probably be reintroduced in a plenary sitting of the imperial parliament.

POLOISTS WILL ARRIVE MONTH BEFORE GAME

New York, January 15.—Ten English polo players, four of whom will be selected to play in the games of the international match for the West Chester cup at Meadowbrook in June, will arrive here May 8. Two weeks later the English polo ponies, thirty-seven in number, will arrive here.

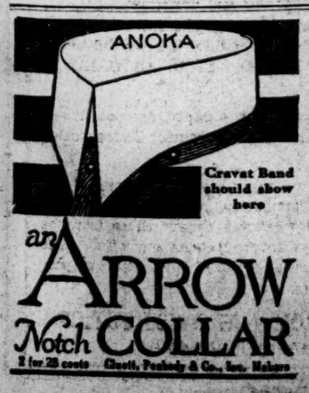

The cup challengers will come direct from Spain, where they will take part in the early spring practice games. They will have only a month to practice, as the first game is scheduled for June 9. Last year the English players arrived six weeks before the games started.

They claim that they began to "stall off" in their physical condition just before the games commenced. In order to prevent a similar occurrence this spring the players decided to practice for only a month in this country prior to the opening of the games.

Last year the ponies arrived a month before the games took place. Now it is proposed to have them reach these shores about ten days before the games begin. Trainers of the ponies believe the ponies will show to better advantage under this schedule. Ten days will just permit them to recover from the effects of the sea voyage and put them on edge for the big matches.

PENNSYLVANIA AND DARTMOUTH FOOTBALL TEAMS SIGN TO MEET

New York, January 15.—A two-year contract that is expected to round out colleges for many years to come was signed yesterday by athletic representatives of the University of Pennsylvania and Dartmouth, according to announcement made here today. The 1914 game will be played on Franklin field, Philadelphia, and on the following year and every alternate year in Boston, providing the alliance holds.

WILL HE DO IT?

J. C. GILMORE.

James C. Gilmore, president of the new Federal baseball league, is just now the most talked-of man in America's national sport. Gilmore has undertaken to "bust" organized baseball, or, rather, has taken up the task of creating a new major baseball league that will be run independently of the national baseball commission. He has already signed up many prominent players from the National and American leagues, and the country is to see one of the fiercest baseball wars ever waged.

SWIMMING RULES WILL BE CHANGED SOMEWHAT

New York, January 15.—Proposed changes in the rules providing for a junior and senior class in all championship swimming events staged under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic union have been sent to the board of governors and delegates at large of the union.

The change, which it is said is sure of adoption, has long been fought by local clubs. Under the present rules a swimmer may compete in a number of championship contests regardless of the titles. Under the new rules the senior class will be opened to all athletes while the junior class will be confined to those who have not won a title.

Amendments to the diving rules, the method of governing swimming records, a complete list of dives for championship competition with the points to be given for each and a list of events for outdoor and indoor championship swims complete the remaining changes.

AMERICAN TRAINER FOR BRITISH TEAM

London, January 15.—The Duke of Westminster's Olympic fund committee will dispose of the funds collected and then resign. The committee aspired to raise $500,000 through a national subscription, but the amount subscribed and promised is less than $55,000 and nearly one-half of the promises are conditional. The committee has in hand only $16,500. A considerable amount has been utilized for expenses.

The Amateur Athletic association has asked W. R. Knox, the American who trained the Canadian team for the Olympic games at Stockholm, to be chief trainer of the British team for a term of three years.

FANNY OKAW FIRST IN AMATEUR DERBY

Rogers Springs, Tenn., January 15.—First honors in the amateur derby of the all-American Field Trials club, which was finished today, was awarded to the setter Fanny Okaw, owned and handled by A. J. Hagan, Uniontown, Pa. Whitestone's Beauty, a setter, owned by Fred Hamilton, of Omaha, and handled by J. S. McSpaddon, Hickory Valley, Tenn., finished second, and the setter, Armstrong's Freddie, entered and handled by R. J. Armstrong, of Farber, N. C., third. Birmingham Boy, a pointer, owned by R. F. Tyler, of Birmingham, Ala., and handled by A. O. Yount, of Newton, N. C., was placed fourth.

Next week the national championship will be decided at Grand Junction, Tenn.

Ex-Wife Sues Hal Chase.

San Jose, Cal., January 15.—Suit to recover $145 back allmony was brought here today by Helen H. Chase, against her former husband, Hal Chase, first baseman of the Chicago Americans. Mrs. Chase alleges that since December 1, Chase has paid her no allmony. Mrs. Chase had been granted $100 a month for herself and child.

MARIST-PEACOCK FIVES PLAY TODAY

Only one of the three games scheduled in the Prep Basketball league will be played this afternoon and that one is the Marist-Peacock-Fleet game, which will be played at the latter's court.

The Donald Fraser-Stone Mountain game and the Boys' high-Tech high games have been postponed until Saturday afternoon.

The Marist-Peacock-Fleet game will be a corking good game, as Marist showed great form in their game with Tech high and as Peacock-Fleet have the best team they have had in some time.

TEAMS.	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
B. H. S.	1	0	1.000
Marist	1	0	1.000
Donald Fraser	1	0	1.000

Smith and Forbes, Star Forwards of Team, Unable to Make Trip to Birmingham.

With one fell swoop, the hopes of the Atlanta basketball fans in the game with the Birmingham Athletic club next Saturday night has fallen.

The regular forwards of the local team, Willingham Smith and Tulu Forbes, will be unable to make the trip to Birmingham. It was bad enough to announce that Smith could not go, but when it was definitely understood that Forbes could not go, either, local hopes fell with a thump. Smith has a dislocated shoulder that has prevented his playing for the past two weeks. Forbes has just accepted a new position in the city and does not feel justified in asking absence from same at this time.

With two sub forwards in the line-up, the local five will be in a badly crippled condition. Just how the local five will line up is problematical.

Significance Attached To Long Time Contracts Signed by Some Players

Much significance can be attached to the announcements that have been printed throughout the country in the last few days of the signing on long term contracts by big league players.

For instance, The Constitution carried several stories Thursday morning of big leaguers who signed with their clubs, not for the coming season, but for two and three years, at increased salaries.

The raid of the Federals has had everything to do with this state of affairs. According to the statement of President Gilmore, of the Federals, his league would not dicker with players who had already signed their contracts.

Thus the majors, for instance Brooklyn, who recently signed Wheat and Rucker to three years' contracts, are protecting themselves and at the same time quietly fighting the Federals, in a way that the Federals can not fight back unless they break their word.

GOLF AT PINEHURST

Pinehurst, N. C., January 15.—R. M. Purves, of Woodland, Mass., and Harold Slater, of Foxhills, L. I., were the winners in today's semi-finals of the annual tournament of the Winter Golf league. They will meet tomorrow to play for the league championship.

Purves won his way into the final round by defeating B. R. Memlock, of Foxhills, 6 up and 5 to play. Slater's opponent was T. A. Ashley, of Woodland, whom he defeated, 3 up and 2 to play.

George C. Dutton, of Belmont, Mass., and J. D. Plummer, of Springfield, Mass., won their matches today in the semi-finals of the first division consolation, and will meet in the finals tomorrow.

CONVENTION BUREAU TO HOLD ANNUAL MEET

Plans are now being made for the first annual meeting and banquet of the Atlanta Convention bureau, which will be held on the evening of January 27, at the Winecoff hotel. The invitations will be mailed out in a few days.

Ivan E. Allen, president of the bureau, will be the toastmaster. Among the speakers will be Governor John M. Slaton, Mayor James G. Woodward, Clark Howell, Mell R. Wilkinson, Senator Hoke Smith, Charles J. Haden, Judge W. T. Newnan and J. F. Letton.

AMERICAN CURLING SQUAD WIN INTERNATIONAL TROPHY

Duluth, Minn., January 15.—The American Curling squad won the international trophy, feature of the Bonspiel, here last night, defeating the Canadian rinks, 67 to 63. It was decided to hold the 1915 tournament in Duluth the week of January 18.

RIFLE BOARD TO CONTINUE ITS MATCHES BIENNIALLY

Washington, January 15.—The national board for the promotion of rifle practice today decided to continue having its shooting matches for the national trophy and other prizes biennially. The next matches will take place in 1915 at a time and place to be determined later.

FEW PLAYERS TO JUMP, SAYS PRESIDENT TENER

Philadelphia, January 15.—Governor John K. Tener, president of the National league, who was here tonight, declared that from present indications every club in the league will take the field with virtually the same personnel as last year. After he had conferred with President Baker, of the Philadelphia club, the governor said he believed the "Phillies" would not lose a player to the Federals except Knabe.

Governor Tener declared club officials are making rapid progress in signing players to contracts, which were sent out later than usual this year.

JIM FLYNN TOO STRONG FOR JACK DRISCOLL

New York, January 15.—Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, knocked out Jack Driscoll, the Brooklyn heavyweight, in the sixth round of what was to have been a ten-round bout here tonight. Flynn weighed 188 pounds and Driscoll 176 pounds.

OWEN BUSH REFUSES TO SIGN WITH "FEDS"

Dauss and Bauman Also Refuse—Major Leaguers Signing With Old Clubs.

Indianapolis, Ind., January 15.—Negotiations that have been pending for nearly two months between the Indianapolis club, of the Federal league, and Owen Bush, shortstop of the Detroit American league team, virtually were ended late today when Bush refused to sign a local contract.

The player declared he was satisfied with the salary offered and the terms of his contract, but that he was not ready to sign a contract with any team now.

George Dauss, pitcher, and Pat Bauman, infielder of the Detroit team, had not accepted contracts offered by the Federal league tonight, and according to announcement made by officials of the local club last night, the negotiations will end.

President J. A. Gilmore, who came here from Chicago to try to induce the players to sign with the Federal league, returned to his home late today.

All Brooklyn Players Sign.

Kansas City, January 15.—Charles Stengel and Joseph Riggert signed contracts tonight to play with the Brooklyn team of the National league, according to Wilbert Robinson, manager, who, with Charles Ebbets, came here today to get the signature of the two players.

"All of Brooklyn's players now have been signed with the exception of Tinker," said Mr. Robinson, "and I think there is little doubt about his getting in line."

New York, January 15.—Signed contracts of four more players were received by the Brooklyn baseball club today. Otto Miller signed for three years; George Cutshaw, two; Elmer Brown, two, and Pfeffer, one.

Three Players for Feds.

Baltimore, Md., January 15.—Secretary Harry Goldman, of the Baltimore Federal league club, returned to the city late tonight from New York with the signed contracts of three players in his possession. They are Enos Kirkpatrick, infielder of Brooklyn Nationals; Guy Zinn, outfielder, formerly of Boston Nationals, now the property of the Rochester International league club; Frank Smith, who played last season with the Montreal International league club.

Yankies Get Boone.

New York, January 15.—The signed contract of Luke Boone, shortstop of last year's Dallas, Texas, league club, was received at the New York American league headquarters today. Boone was purchased by Frank Chance last summer and after seeing him work in several games Chance decided to give him a further trial at Houston in March.

Bates Joins Reds.

AT THE THEATERS

(At the Atlanta.)

Seats are now on sale at the Atlanta for the engagement of J. Hartley Manners' delightful comedy of youth, "Peg o' My Heart," which will be played all of next week. Matinees are to be given Wednesday and Saturday. Monday night will be especially brilliant and the opening will be auspicious. Many theater parties will be given, the Rotary club, in full evening dress, occupying 150 seats, while the boxes will be occupied by a wedding party. Several parties, ranging from four to ten, will attend. Seats are also selling fast for the other performances of the week, which promise to make every one of real importance.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

There is all to the bill of entertainment at the Forsyth this week that has been said for it. Hundreds of people have not been able to secure seats and the S. R. O. sign will do duty at the matinee and night performances today and Saturday. Aside from the value of the headline acts the features and the rest of the program are up to the standard of the busy theater.

Sophie Tucker is an interesting entertainer. Francis McGinn and his supporting company have a "punch" sketch in a playlet that deals with the police system. DeWitt, Burns and Torrence offer a novelty closing act that holds every audience, the greatest argument that can be used as to its value.

For next week the headline will be Owen McGiveney, the famous Irish actor, who will give a "Bill Sikes" idea from the Charles Dickens "Oliver Twist" story. The actor will play the five parts in the sketch alone.

Norman Hackett.

(At the Lyric.)

Norman Hackett is coming in for his own. The talented actor has surrounded himself with the best supporting company of players any stock star has ever introduced locally. He has presented three plays of real value and theatergoers are becoming very much attached to the Lyric.

For tonight and matinee and night Saturday the bill will be this week's splendid success, "The Witching Hour," the Augustus Thomas play that made John Mason a real star.

Next week Mr. Hackett will offer the successful play, "Raffles." It is a fact that this is the best of all the "crook" plays. It deals with a gentleman thief, and it is interesting. It brings about a real battle of brain between a police agent and the crook. It is gripping. It will keep the Lyric and Mr. Hackett very much in the limt light.

"The Cow-Puncher."

(At the Bijou.)

"The Cow-Puncher" has broken all records of stock engagements at the Bijou, and with the present production the Eddie Black stock company has established itself firmly with Bijou patrons. Eddie Black has shown his intention of furnishing patrons of this house during his stay in Atlanta with a series of productions such as has seldom been presented at popular prices, and there is every reason to anticipate a most successful engagement for the little comedian and his plays. For next week another successful melodrama entitled "On the Bridge at Midnight" is announced.

Moving Pictures.

(At the Grand.)

"Traffic in Souls" is the title of a motion picture play that is to be the all-week attraction at the Grand, commencing on Monday afternoon. This picture has created a sensation in New York and the larger cities. It has brought out police reserves in some cities to combat with the masses that have demanded admission to witness the picture. It is the product of the Universal company, responsible for some of the greatest pictures that are offered in the "movie" places. Some real screen favorites are in the cast and there are some wonderful effects introduced. The picture will be exhibited at matinee and night daily at popular prices.

CAMPAIGN IS STARTED FOR AMERICUS Y. M. C. A.

Americus, Ga., January 15.—(Special.) Two hundred business men of Americus, including all professions, banqueted tonight at the Americus Light infantry armory, the occasion signaling the opening of a campaign in behalf of the Americus Young Men's Christian association. Prominent among the speakers were Dr. William Ainsworth, of Macon, and Woods White, of Atlanta, who, with local speakers, urged the cause of the association. Twenty-five thousand dollars is the amount announced to be raised during the whirlwind campaign, conducted throughout five days. This amount will liquidate all indebtedness of the Americus association, now in the hands of a receiver, and put it upon its feet again.

MRS. J. E. EDWARDS DIES AT COPPER HILL, TENN.

Copper Hill, Tenn., January 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. Fannie E. Edwards, wife of J. Earl Edwards, of this place, died at her home after a short illness.

Surviving her, besides her husband and little daughter, are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Wallace, of Atlanta, Ga.; also the following sisters: Mrs. L. M. Sanford, of London, England; Misses Nina, Willie and Kate; two brothers, L. Deck and Ralph Wallace, all of Atlanta, Ga.

The body was taken to Knoxville, Tenn., for interment.

Trick Donkeys Are Pinched Because Actor Didn't Pay

Just because a comedian happens to be funny on the stage is no sign that life is just one round of festivity when, speaking in the vernacular, "he is off."

The little homily, so neatly turned, as above, was most dramatically pointed Thursday, when a certain John Hardiman, whose plebeian duties forbid any very deep soul throbs, sued out a laborer's lein in the municipal court attaching two mules, Pete and Denver, on a claim that J. V. Van Cleave, a performer now showing with the aforesaid donkeys, at a local theater, and declaring that Van Cleave owed him the sum of $109.55 for back wages.

Hardiman Had Silent Part.

According to Hardiman, he has been a working member of Van Cleave's sketch, but appeared in a silent part. He has been chambermaid to the trick mules used in the act. For some time past, so Hardiman stated, his weekly stipend of $8 has become weaker and weaker until the residue now amounts to over $.00. He also added that with such animals as Pete and Denver, he himself might be able to make good wages. He climaxed his plaint by the statement that all he wanted was what was due him.

So, armed with the necessary papers in the case, Hardiman, accompanying a deputy marshal, went to the Piedmont stables Thursday about 1:30 and attached Pete and Denver. The mules were driven downtown to a livery stable near the municipal court. They were tagged as exhibit A and B, and left to browse in much hay and sifted sawdust.

Came the time for the afternoon performance in which Pete or Denver, whichever was feeling the friskiest, was to work. Van Cleave, their owner, stood in the wings of the theater, the sweat trickling down his nasal appendage, for Pete or Denver had not as yet been ushered into the back of the house by Hardiman.

And Then They Didn't Appear.

The orchestra played the overture. Still no Pete or Denver. The time came for the act to go on. Still no appearance of the other half of the team of Van Cleave and Pete.

The manager of the house heard a faint rumor that Pete and Denver had been incarcerated. He frantically appeared at the municipal court, willing to give bond or do anything reasonable, so that Pete and Denver could go on and work during the afternoon. There happened to be nothing doing.

Then the theater was communicated with, and the act in which Pete or Denver would have worked was cancelled for that performance.

The lien that was plastered against the thick hides of Pete and Denver was fixed up late in the day, so that the trick animals were able to appear Thursday night for their regular "stunt." However, Hardiman, the maid de chambre, was absent.

Be that as it may, it is always true that just because a comedian happens to be the very last word in hilarity when before the footlights, it is no sign of a duck's nest that he is a killer when it comes to hilarity as he strolls down the street.

Change in Rural Credits Suggested by State Chamber

Prominent bankers, fertilizer dealers and commission merchants in every part of Georgia have been approached by the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, in an effort to ascertain the feasibility of changing the system of rural credits now in vogue in the state whereby the debts of the farmers of the state, instead of maturing, as they do now, at the cotton picking season, could be so arranged as to fall due in equal parts in September, January and April.

Could such a system be worked out it is thought that the present depression in the price of cotton, caused by the necessity of throwing great quantities of cotton on the market at picking time, could be largely avoided. Under the proposed system, the farmer who now has to market practically his whole crop at picking time could hold the larger part of it for better prices.

To ascertain the attitude of the men who extend the largest amount of credit to the farmers of the state, the state chamber has accordingly sent out 500 letters to bankers, fertilizer men and commission merchants, asking that they answer the following questions:

"Would it be practicable for the bankers, fertilizer dealers, supply merchants and others, who give credit to the farmer, jointly to agree to have notes, taken in payment, mature in three equal portions at different dates, say one-third in October, one-third in January and one-third in April?

"To adjust, as far as may be possible, their own financial arrangements, to conform to the foregoing plan of extended credits that it might work no hardship to those making loans and advancing supplies?

"Do you think such a system could be established, and, if so, would it tend to strengthen the cotton market by giving the growers a greater range of time in which to sell?"

The Georgia Chamber of Commerce hopes to get a consensus of opinion from those actually engaged in the matter of extending rural credits, in order that the feasibility of a readjustment of the present system of credits on this basis may be ascertained.

COLUMBUS SUBSCRIBES TO GEORGIA CHAMBER

$2,500 Raised in Ten Minutes. Additional Sums Expected Today.

Columbus, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Fifty prominent Columbus business men subscribed $2,500 to the Georgia Chamber of Commerce in ten minutes' time today at the conclusion of a luncheon given by the state chamber.

Following a brief talk by President Charles J. Haden, of the state-wide organization, in which he showed the possibility of Georgia's avoiding the disastrous effects from the invasion of the boll weevil suffered by other southern states, the subscriptions were announced so rapidly that the entire $2,500 was pledged within a few moments. Additional subscriptions, which will be made today, are expected to run the total up to $3,500, or $500 above the amount asked of Columbus.

Preceding President Haden's talk T. O. Plunkett, special boll weevil expert of the Southern railroad, announced that his road was going to turn over to the Georgia Chamber of Commerce all of its experts now in the Georgia territory which will be invaded this year. The Southern railway now has thirty-eight men actively engaged in fighting the boll weevil in the south and those in southwest Georgia will, from this time on, work hand in hand with the state chamber.

VISITING SHRINER WEDS SWEETHEART WHO MET HIM HERE

J. O. Walker, of Charlotte, N. C., and Miss Adeline Chapman, of Charleston, S. C., were quietly married Thursday afternoon at the Ansley hotel by the grooms brother, Rev. W. L. Walker, of Rome, Ga.

The groom is captain of the Arab Patrol of Oasis Temple, Charlotte, N. C., and came to Atlanta with brother Shriners to assist in preparations for the Shriners' convention which is to be held in Atlanta in May. The bride and groom had been sweethearts for several years, but both possessed aversions to the big church wedding their "folks" looked forward to. So they took the occasion to marry quietly. Miss Chapman was accompanied to Atlanta by Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Young, relatives.

Among the Shriners present at the wedding were: J. E. Rose, of Richmond, Va., captain of the Arab Patrol of Acca Temple, and R. S. Reinhardt, of Lincolntown, Tenn., a past potentate of Oasis Temple and a representative to the coming imperil council meeting of Shriners in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker will leave in a few days for their future home in Charlotte.

$5,000 FIRE IN TIFTON WITH NO INSURANCE

Tifton, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Tifton had a $5,000 fire this afternoon at 5 o'clock and not a cent of insurance was carried on the property burned. The building destroyed was used as a main exhibition building for the Empire Garden Midsummer fruit fairs, held in 1894-95. It cost about $2,500 to build, but was only worth a few hundred dollars. It belonged to H. H. Tift and was only used for storage purposes. The Golden Hardware company had about $2,500 worth of machinery in the building, and Contractor W. H. Spooner and several carpenters had about $1,000 worth of tools. T. E. Phillips also lost a lot of building material.

The old building stood near the union passenger station. It burned like tinder, but good work by the fire departmentkept the flames from spreading to near-by buildings.

MOTORIST OF MONROE HELD UP BY BANDITS

Monroe, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Albert Peters, a well-known young man of this city, was held up last night two and a half miles south of this city by road bandits, who, with pointed pistols, compelled him to submit to a thorough search. He retained a sum of money which he stuck in the seat of his automobile before he got out, but was stripped of other valuables.

He had been to Winder in his automobile. Returning toward Monroe, he was stopped on the road two and a half miles south of Winder by four men who appeared in the path of his car's lights with pistols leveled at the approaching automobile.

Excitement prevails here over the occurrence, news of which has just become public. Summary justice would be the disposition of the public in its present temper.

OLD BILL MINOR'S GHOST NOT WITHOUT INFLUENCE

Jury Fails to Agree in Mrs. Widencamp's Fight for Insurance.

Milledgeville, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—The ghost of "Old Bill" Minor has been walking around the courthouse in Baldwin county this week, testifying in the most novel case that has been before the court in years, and it seems that he is having some influence in as much as the jury has been unable to reach a verdict after deliberating all last night and today.

The case is a suit for the recovery of $3,000 brought by Mrs. Emma P. Widencamp against the Franklin and Prudential life insurance companies, the amount of policies ofn the life of her husband, W. J. Widencamp, who, it is alleged, lost his life in the Oconee river in June, 112, while attempting to gain his freedom after escaping from the prison farm.

Old Bill Minor and W. M. Wiggins escaped at the same time. These two were recaptured and they told the tale of their trip down the river in a little boat that they stole from an employee of the state sanitarium, and how, about midnight, in a swift place in the water, their craft struck a snag, capsized and sank; that they swam to the bank, but Widencamp was drowned.

Mrs. Widencamp's case depends entirely upon the evidence of these two ex-convicts to establish the death of her husband. The insurance companies contend that their story is untrue and altogether improbable, and introduced a number of witnesses, among whom was one who swore that he had seen Widencamp in September, 1912, two months after the date he was reported to have been drowned.

SLASHES THROAT AFTER ARRANGING BASIN FOR BLOOD

Arranging a wash-basin at the side of his bed so that the blood from his wound would not flow over the floor and coverlets, John Holder, a middle-aged Englishman, and inmate of the Paupers' home, committed suicide early Thursday morning by gashing his throat with a pocketknife.

For days he had been haunted with the hallucination that enemies were pursuing him to sever his head. He carefully planned the deed and had previously announced that if the spectres did not quit him he would commit sulcide. He was sent to the Paupers' home from police court after having been committed to the Tower.

He was discovered about 5 o'clock in the morning, lying bleeding to death, by his roommates, B. Kalligher and J. D. Willard. The wounded man was barely conscious. He was rushed to a nearby hospital and fast efforts were made to save him. He died, however, during the afternoon.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT, HUNTER LOSES EYE

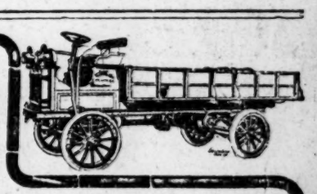

Valdosta, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Thomas Allen, a prominent citizen of Lenox, Ga., was brought to the Bellevue sanitarium in this city suffering from accidental wounds he received while bird hunting Wednesday afternoon. The sight of one of his eyes was destroyed by two shot which penetrated the pupil, and he has a wound in the neck.

Mr. Allen was in a party of six or eight hunters, and the shot which wounded him are thought to have struck a tree and glanced from it.

PANAMA CANAL STUDIED IN SCHOOLS

Panama Canal study clubs are being organized in some of the public schools by progressive geography teachers. Seeing that it is now possible to secure a book on the canal which is vouched for by Chief Engineer Goethals, so far as the engineering chapters are concerned, some of the teachers have organized their classes into co-operative clipping clubs for the purpose of gathering the coupons and getting books for the whole class together.

President Wilson said the other day that the Panama Canal is typical of the American genius for achievement. Nothing so stirs the patriot heart in these days of peace as the real story of the Panama Canal, and the author who can tell it renders a service to his country, just as the newspaper which brings it to its readers renders a service to its community. That is why The Atlanta Constitution is distributing at cost "The Panama Canal," by Frederic J. Haskin.

COTTON STARTED OFF SOME HIGHER

But Advance Brought About Realizing and the Market Weakened—Barely Steady at the Close.

New York, January 15.—After showing considerable firmness early today, cotton broke rather sharply and closed barely steady, net 1 point lower to 4 points higher. The advance to 12.65 for March and of about 58 to 65 points from the recent low record on active positions appeared to attract a good deal of realizing, and there was also some local and southern selling as prices eased off from the best.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 4 points and after some little irregularity the market worked higher on covering, trade buying and moderate support from local bulls. Steadier Liverpool cables, reports that a more active demand for goods in Fall River was accompanied by an increased inquiry for spots from eastern mills and rumors of bullish private ginning returns appeared to inspire more bull confidence and there was a fairly active demand during the morning. Rumors of bullish ginning figures were confirmed, however, and after showing a net advance of about 10 to 13 points on active months, the market turned easier under profit-taking or fresh selling for a turn, with last prices showing reactions of 8 or 10 points from the best.

Southern advices continued to indicate a better export demand. There was some southern selling on the advance here, which led to reports that hedging was becoming rather more active at the higher level, but the main pressure against prices on the afternoon reaction was attributed to realizing of recent local buyers.

The next report of the census bureau on ginning will be issued a week from tomorrow and carries operations up to the close of business today. Today's rumors of a bullish showing were not accompanied by any definite figures and sellers on the afternoon reaction claimed that comparatively small returns might have been discounted by the advance which has occurred since the publication of last week's figures.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, January 15.—Bullish sentiment was strong in the cotton market today and prices worked up to new high levels for the present movement on fresh buying for long account. As was the case yesterday, recent buyers were eager for profits and their realizing sales held the market down to a moderate advance, which in the afternoon was partly lost.

The main bullish influences of the day were reports of very small ginning in the period ending today, one rumor putting it at only 104,000 bales; better reports from the dry goods markets, accounts of a continued improvement in business and prices in southern spot markets, much higher cables than due and telegrams from Texas stating that new crop preparations in the early counties of that state were from two to three weeks behind the average season.

The opening was steady at a rise of 1 to 4 points. The advance was slowly widened, until late in the morning it amounted to nine to eleven points, which was the high of the day. Some little pressure from realizing longs was experienced in the early trading and toward noon it became more pronounced. In the afternoon it weighed against prices rather heavily at times. The close was steady at a net gain of 2 to 5 points.

Much gossip was devoted to ginning and bullish forecasts of the amount of cotton turned out bewteen January 1 and today ranged from 150,000 bales downward, against 181,525 bales during the same period last year. This stimulated considerable short covering.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, January 15.—Holders of cotton seed oil attempted to unload today and found the market poorly supplied with buying orders. Prices broke sharply under pressure, but rallied in the late afternoon on covering and were finally 6 points net lower to 4 points higher. Sales, 11,600 barrels.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, January 15.—There was a very strong market this morning and prices went to a new high for the movement. This advance brought out a good deal of profit-taking and prices eased off to a close only a point or so higher than yesterday. There is a good undertone to the market, however, and the fact that longs are willing to take profits on strong spots, instead of pyramiding, makes it a better market in the end. Cotton is a purchase on all weak spots.

Liverpool is due to come 2½ to 3¼ down.

The bull manipulators in coffee tried to sell a little in that market today and the result was a break of 25 points in an hour. Receipts of coffee in Santos thus far this season have been 1,600,000 bags more than for the same time last year. Brazil is in bad shape financially and coffee may go very low.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, January 15.—Impressed by the lareg amount of cotton reported consumed during December by our government census report, Europe was a good buyer this morning, both in Liverpool and New York. The falling off in the last ginning report, together with the census report tend to confirm Neill's estimate. While spinners have have not been heavy buyers they have been making steady inquiry for cotton and are rather uneasy as to the probable price they will have to pay for the balance of their supplies. This demand has been sufficient to prevent any hedge selling here with a consequent gradual advance in a market where investment buying has been of the smallest character. Some liquidation occurred in the last hour on the idea that a reaction would take place, but on the whole sentiment is much more friendly than for a long time.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, January 15.—A further advance in cotton prices today followed stronger cables and continued reports of an unusually large spot demand. The creeping way the market has advanced suggests the cause is the practical elimination of hedge selling and covering of hedges, both consequent to the better spot demand and in a small market sufficient to produce the results. This situation is likely to continue until the demand is checked by the price.

New York, January 15.—Dan Talmage's Sons say that the new year opens up following the inventories with the contraction in volume of actual business still continuing, and the idea seems to be current that there is little chance for material improvement at the moment. The new tariff gradually adjusting itself to the new conditions with the currency question now passing into the experimental stage begets a spirit of continued conservatism on the part of the general business community, and it will take a little time for trade and industry to feel any marked return of former confidence and operations become more liberal. The depression in trade has certainly been widespread, and there is still divergence of opinion over the business outlook. Supplies are still ample, as the heavy imports of the past 60-90 days are for the most part still held in store, but it is expected that the demand will shortly start up and relieve the present burden. Honduras and Japans are a bit more active at slightly advanced figures, but the output is limited, as the mills are running shy on rough and are still forced to accept prices asked by the planters.

Advices from the south, along the Atlantic coast, are more encouraging—the movement better than anticipated. At New Orleans a good demand still prevails under firm prices.

In the interior, southwest Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas, it is reported that the planters are indifferent to the demands of the mills and require full prices for their rough.

WHEAT MADE GAIN ON FRESH BUYING

Belief That Much of Australian Crop Would Be Needed by Japan Main Factor in Advance.

Chicago, January 15.—Although there was some reaction in wheat today, after the rapid advance in the preceding session, there was considerable fresh buying, due largely to the belief that much of the Australian crop would be required by Japan. The close was nervous, ranging from ⅛ decline to ⅛@¼ advance, compared with the night before. Corn finished 3-8@1-2 off to ⅛ up; oats down ⅛ to ¼, and provisions varying from 2½ loss to a gain of 12½.

Notice of increased demand for Australian cargoes formed one of the earliest items that engaged the attention of the wheat trade. Later, the subject was again brought forward by estimates that the Australian surplus would be nearly 2,000,000 bushels less than the total a year ago. It was not until near the end of the day, however, that buyers here learned of a more decisive impetus to action—news from an authoritative source that Japan was likely to purchase heavily in Australian because of disappointing yields at home.

Liberal export sales at St. Louis and elsewhere helped wheat to rally late in the session. Reduced estimates of the Argentine yield counted as an element of strength. It was a fact, nevertheless, that during most of the day prices were inclined to sag, the sudden forcing out of shorts yesterday having deprived the market of an important share of support.

General loosing up in offerings from the country brought about a return of bear pressure on corn. Unseasonably mild weather that was expected to continue several days added to the weakness, as did a lack of adequate shipping call. The bull turn in wheat aided a rally toward the last.

For the most part, oats merely followed the course of other grain. The Buenos Ayres market was reported to be excited and higher because of disappointing returns of threshers.

THOMASVILLE MAY HAVE ANTI-WEEVIL STATION

Thomasville, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—That Thomasville will have a station established here for the purpose of fighting the much-dreaded boll weevil seems very certain now.

At the meeting this week of the county commissioners of Thomas, State Entomologist Lee Worsham appeared before the board and stated the intentions of his department in wanting to establish a station in this section of the state to fight the boll weevil and other pests of the field and orchard. On motion of the board Mr. Worsham was urged to locate the station in Thomasville as being a convenient and desirable situation for it. Dr. J. T. Culpepper and Messrs. Chason and Murphy were appointed as a committee from the board to co-operate with Mr. Worsham in getting a suitable location for this station.

Mr. Worsham stated that the boll weevil was only 6 miles from the Georgia state line and was expected to reach Thomas county this year.

HERON 6 1-2 FEET TALL IS KILLED AT TIFTON

Tifton, Ga., January 15.—A probable result of the recent storms on the coast was the killing by a Tifton citizen of a mammoth bird which was a stranger to this section. The bird was seen near the city in a pond and shot. It resembled a blue heron in color and was 6½ feet high, its wings measuring 7 feet 8 inches from tip to tip. Its bill was 6½ inches long.

Diplomatic Post for Mooney.

STOCKS BUOYANT ALL THE SESSION

Advances All Through the List—The Sentiment Was Bullish and the Market Broader.

New York, January 15.—Stocks of all classes rose vigorously today. Speculation was more active and the market was broader. Sentiment was decidedly bullish and buying was conducted with a degree of confidence which has not characterized trading recently. Speculation for the rise was facilitated by the increased volume of outside buying. Steady absorption of high grade stocks which have no speculative following gave an indication of the quickened investment demand. This same tendency was visible in the bond market in which dealings expanded and prices rose.

Today's movement was a continuation of the rise which began late yesterday, on receipt from Washington of unofficial outlines of the administration's attitude toward anti-trust legislation. The probable character of legislation affecting corporations and the president's forthcoming message to congress on this subject figured largely in determining the temper of speculative sentiment, it being felt that a less drastic position would be taken by the administration than the bears had predicted. Easy money rates, the scarcity of stocks, the broadening investment demand and a more hopeful view of the outlook for business were other influences which contributed to the day's movement.

Steel led the market. Trading in this stock was unusually active and it rose nearly 2 points. Erie and Can also figured largely in the dealings. Union Pacific and Reading were inclined to lag behind the remainder of the list owing to persistent profit taking, but most active shares rose 1 to 2 points. Among the secondary stocks gains were larger.

London came into this market for stocks. Purchases for foreign account, consisting chiefly of steel, Erie and Canadian Pacific, were about 20,000 shares.

Dealings in bonds increased largely. A number of issues which usually are dormant were dealt on at substantial advances over previous quotations. Some speculative mortgages improved in the neighborhood of a point. Total sales, par value, $3,900,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Treasury Statement.

The deficit this fiscal year is $19,043,515, against a deficit of $10,145,365 last year, exclusive of Panama canal and public debt transactions.

Mining Stocks.

London Stock Market.

London, January 15.—The settlement was concluded satisfactory on the stock exchange, but the tendency was irregular.

Copper stocks and Americans were cheerful features, but Mexican 5 per cent consols fell 10, and other Mexican state bonds about 5 points on the postponement of the interest payments.

Petroleum, Hides, Leather.

The corn show committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce will meet in the chamber quarters in the Empire building Friday at noon for the purpose of laying plans to extend the scope of the 1914 corn show to include a horticultural and apple exhibit, and, perhaps, a stock exhibit. For this purpose H. B. Wey, chairman of the horticultural committee, and W. H. White, Jr., chairman of the animal industry committee, will meet with the corn show committee.

H. G. Hastings, chairman of the corn show committee, and Fred Houser, secretary of the Atlanta convention bureau, will go to Athens next week to invite the Georgia Horticultural society and the Georgia Live Stock and Dairymen's association, which are in convention there January 20 and 21, to hold their fall meetings in Atlanta.

INDIAN MOTORCYCLISTS TO HAVE CLUB SMOKER

A smoker will be held tonight in the Indian Motorcycle clubrooms at 457 Peachtree, to which all Indian riders in the city have been invited. The supper is the outcome of a meeting held last Sunday at which a temporary organization of motorcycle men was set on foot, and is the first of a series of entertainments which the club intends to give during the winter months.

The club, which is composed exclusively of Indian motorcycle owners, has been given the use of a completely furnished room by the Hendee Manufacturing company, and the room will be fitted up in the most thorough fashion, giving the local organization the best appointed quarters in the south. It plans to co-operate with the Federation of American motorcyclists, the national organization, and other Georgia clubs in a determined fight upon the new tax law, which compels the owner of a "two-wheeler" to pay the same assessment as the owner of the highest-priced automobile.

H. G. Adams, of Tech, is the temporary chairman of the club, and C. A. Carroll is temporary secretary. A meeting will be held Sunday morning at which permanent officers will be elected.

GIRL SAYS R. L. PALMER KEPT HER IN "SLAVERY"

Albany, Ga., January 15.—(Special.) Robert L. Palmer, a well-known man of Albany, was bound over today by Commissioner Westbrook, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act. His bond was fixed at $500, which was furnished.

The charge is based on the complaint of Helen Burns that he went to Cincinnati, Ohio, and brought her back to this city, paying her way and keeping her here under threats of putting her in jail if she should try to leave. Palmer was on her bond as witness in the Ethel Rodgers murder case, and it is charged that he used this as a means of intimidating her and preventing her from leaving.

Beiliss Goes to Palestine.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

LONE MAN WITH GUN STILL DEFIES POSSE

Mayville, N. Y., January 15.—Forty-eight hours after shooting John G. W. Putnam, overseer of the poor, Edward Beardsley tonight was holding out against the siege of Sheriff Gustav Anderson and his deputies at the little farmhouse near Summerdale, where the poor master received what may prove to be his death wound.

Beardsley Is Defiant.

Beardsley was defiant today. When reminded of his promise to surrender he laughed and warned Deputy Timothy Van Cise, who carried a message to him yesterday and again today under a flag of truce, not to approach the house again under pain of death. The message was Sheriff Anderson's ultimatum. It said that unless the man surrendered by 2:30 o'clock today the place would be taken by storm and that if Beardsley resisted he would be shot without mercy.

"Let them come," was Beardsley's answer.

"Then you won't surrender?" asked Van Cise.

"I might, about April 1; now clear out," replied Beardsley.

The hour of the threatened raid came and passed and Sheriff Anderson took no action. He did not wish to waste the lives of any of the deputies, his friends and neighbors, he said.

Wife and Nine Children.

The fact that a woman and nine children are in the house and perhaps starving, was urged upon the sheriff as a reason for immediate action. The sheriff said he would order the attack on the house some time tonight. All except a small force of deputies needed for guard purposes were sent home for a few hours' sleep.

Putnam was removed to a hospital in Jamestown tonight after a successful operation to remove the bullet from the wound in his groin. He showed improvement late in the day, but on account of his advanced age—he is nearly 70—there is little hope for his recovery.

KEYSTONE MOOSE MEN SET FORTH PRINCIPLES

Harrisburg, Pa., January 15.—Pennsylvania progressives closed their conference at which the 1914 campaign was outlined here today by adopting a series of resolutions setting forth their principles, but without indorsing or suggesting candidates for state offices to be filled in November. The closing session of the conference was marked by a series of addresses by progressive party leaders, among them being James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior; United States Senator Moses E. Clapp, Minnesota; Gifford Pinchot and several congressmen from this state.

The resolutions demand amendment of the women's employment law so as to bring about a nine-hour day for women; stringent child labor, minimum wage and corrupt practices acts; a constitutional convention; woman's suffrage; the initiative, referendum and recall of decisions on constitutionality of laws and of executive offices.

The liquor question was dealt with by a plank declaring the initiative would offer a means of starting legislation to provide for regulation or elimination of the liquor traffic. The resolutions declared against fusion.

Gifford Pinchot was cheered when he spoke and calls from the audience demanded that he run for United States senator.

"Four hundred Pennsylvania progressives in Washington party conference send greetings. Conference subscribes absolutely to no compromise and congratulates itself upon the fact that you will be with us in the fight this fall."

LINEMAN FRACTURES SKULL IN HIS FALL

While working at the summit of a tower on the power line of the Georgia Electric company, G. W. Duncan, a lineman living in East Point, fell late yesterday afternoon and was carried to the Atlanta hospital in a critical condition.

The tower on which the accident occurred is near a substation at the end of North Boulevard. It is believed the lineman's fall was due to a shock he received while tinkering with the heavily charged wires.

His skull was fractured and a number of bones were broken. Authorities at the hospital do not expect him to live.

$12,000 STOLEN CASH IS FOUND IN CROCK

Connellsville, Pa., January 15.—More than $12,000 of the $13,000 stolen by Ralph Wiant, a clerk of the United States Express company here, Monday night, was found today in a crock in the home of Fred B. Wiant, a brother. Detectives had learned that Ralph Wiant had informed a friend that he had left most of the stolen money in Connellsville. Fred Wiant's home was searched from top to bottom.

A crock, containing flour, was overturned and $12,300 of the stolen money rolled to the floor. Wiant then admitted that his brother had called on him Tuesday morning and requested him to hide the money. Ralph Wiant is believed to have gone to a western city.

TURKEY TO TAKE PART IN PANAMA EXPOSITION

Constantinople, January 15.—The sublime porte has informed the American embassy that Turkey will participate officially in the Panama exposition. Ambassador Morganthau entertained today in honor of the commissioners of the exposition, who will go next to Roumania. The Turkish ministers of commerce and agriculture and the Bulgarian, Rumanian and Servian diplomatic representatives were present.

Nicaragua Trusts U. S.

Managua, Nicaragua, January 15.—The houses of the Nicaraguan congress, in joint session, today passed virtually unanimously a vote of confidence in the foreign policy of the government, especially in relation to the United States. The vote was the outcome of a discussion of the proposed treaty under negotiation with the United States in reference to the Nicaraguan isthmian canal.

CENTRAL CITY CHILDREN WILL DEMAND "RIGHTS"

Over 100 to Storm Mayor's Office and Demand Skating Privilege.

Macon, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—"Children's rights" is the latest innovation in Macon and all because of the orders issued to the police to enforce the law against the youngsters' skating on the cement sidewalks.

It is announced that more than 100 children will storm the mayor and council at their meeting next Tuesday night and demand that their "rights" be restored to them.

Recently council agreed to close up a block on Walnut street, paved with concrete, for use of the skaters if the property owners there did not object. However, as soon as the plan became known a petition of protest was filed with council and it was all off. Now, with no place to skate, the children have decided to ask for the repeal of the ordinance.

Cops Ask Reinstatement.

Macon, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—The four Macon policemen who have asked for reinstatement since they were stricken from the list of the mayor's appointments by the special purging committee named by council, will know Friday night whether or not they are to be reinstated. The committee will meet tomorrow and consider the petitions and report at a special meeting of the mayor and council Friday night. The patrolmen asking for reinstatement are Alex Thompson, Jack Kirby, R. W. Pierce and A. J. Powers.

A. H. Codington Indorsed.

Macon, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Arthur H. Codington, for the past three years second assistant United States district attorney, is being generally indorsed for reappointment to that position by members of the bench and bar in Macon. Petitions have been signed by all of the local judges and practically every member of the Macon Bar association, and copies will be sent to the attorney general of the United States, the two senators from Georgia and to the new United States district attorney for the southern district of Georgia.

It is practically established that Bratt Adams, of Savannah, will succeed Alexander Akerman, of Macon, as district attorney, it is argued that at least one of his assistants should be located in Macon, the most important city in the district.

Saloons Out One-Third.

Macon, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Macon is to have only one-third as many near beer saloons as she had last year, there having been only twenty-eight applications this year, where last year there were over seventy. Thursday was the final day for filing applications.

The reason most of the saloon keepers declined to seek new licenses is because of the rigid ordinance passed by council governing the operation of the saloons and the edict that it would be enforced to the letter. As the city received $300 from each of the saloons last year the loss of most of this revenue will be felt in more ways than one by the city this year. The deficiency is to be made up in increased valuations on property.

MORTUARY.

Rev. M. B. Ferrell, Waycross.

Waycross, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—Today the funeral services of Rev. M. B. Ferrell, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. P. Christian, were held at the Trinity Methodist church. Deceased was originally of Macon, and had been a minister for thirty years. He was 54 years old. Rev. I. P. Tyson, presiding elder of the Waycross district, conducted the funeral services.

Mrs. Sallie J. Cochran.

Mrs. Sallie J. Cochran, aged 70, died Thursday at the residence, 18 Kelly street. The funeral will be held at 11:30 o'clock today at St. Paul Methodist church, Rev. B. F. Fraser officiating. Mrs. Cochran is survived by two sons and three daughters.

Oscar Langley.

The remains of 4-year-old Oscar Langley, who was fatally burned at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Langley, at 46 Beuna Vista avenue, Wednesday, was taken to Bloomfield's chapel. Funeral arrangements will be completed later.

Charles Milton Griffin.

The funeral of Charles Milton Griffin was held yesterday afternoon at the residence, 141 Forrest avenue. The body was removed to the Burkert-Simmons chapel, where it will remain until definite arrangements are made for burial.

Miss Mary Morey.

The funeral of Miss Mary Morey was held yesterday afternoon at Patterson's chapel. The body will be sent Friday to Chicago, where the interment will take place.

DEATH DIVORCES TWIN BROTHERS AFTER 72 YEARS

Louisville, Ky., January 15.—Death today separated Daniel H. and Samuel V. Harris, of this city, twin brothers and bosom companions throughout the 72 years of their lives. The Harris brothers were found by the police late Wednesday, weak from hunger and exposure, in a coal shed on a downtown alley. Samuel was placed in the city hospital, while Daniel was taken to the county jail.

Daniel last night begged the jailer to take him to the hospital so he could help care for his brother, but this request was refused. Both declared they had never before been separated. Early today Daniel was found dead on his cell bunk. Physicians said death was due to starvation and exposure. At the hospital it was stated that the twins' separation would not be for long, as Samuel was unconscious and physicians declared he could not survive.

For forty years the brothers drove mule cars here, but when the trolley cars came they retired, buying a farm with the $6,000 they had saved. Later they lost the farm and when infirmities came upon them they became dependent.

WITH A STOLEN GUN NEGRO SHOT MERCHANT

Monroe, N. C., January 15.—Will Blount, a negro bricklayer, was arrested here by the police today, charged with shooting W. Raymond Outen, a prominent merchant, Monday evening with a gun stolen from one of the city aldermen a few nights before. After firing a load of birdshot into the back of Outen's head, his assailant fractured his skull with the butt of the gun. The wounded man is in a Charlotte hospital, having been in an unconscious and dying condition since the time of the assault.

$10,000 Memorial to Husband.

Mobile, Ala., January 15.—In memory of the deceased Maurice Lowenstein, Mrs. Lucille B. Lowenstein, his wealthy widow, announced today the establishment of a $10,000 trust fund for the Mobile infirmary, to be applied only to the maintenance of the free public ward for female patients. The fund is to endure as long as the institution "remains non-sectarian."

TRAIN AT CROSSING KILLS W. T. LARSEN

Dublin, Ga., January 15.—(Special.) In collision with a Central passenger train and his automobile, W. T. Larsen, Esq., of this city, met death instantly this afternoon at a road crossing near Scott. A young man named Turner, riding with him, escaped with only a few scratches. Mr. Larsen was on his way to Swainsboro from Dublin in his car when they approached the crossing, one mile from Scott and sixteen miles from Dublin.

The road was down hill to the crossing, and some distance from the track he saw that the train would probably reach the crossing just a few feet ahead of him, and he turned his car into a telephone pole near the right of way. The car struck the pole a glancing blow and shot squarely against the tender of the engine just at the crossing.

Mr. Larsen was thrown out over the steering wheel and under the train, the wheels passing over him, grinding his body into fragments, bursting his skull, scattering his brains and internal organs on the ground and killing him instantly. Turner crouched on the floor, holding on as best he could. The train stripped the body from the chassis completely, leaving Turner and one narrow board, to which he clung. The fragments of Larsen's body were brought to Dublin by the train, after repairing damages from the collision.

Larsen was a prominent attorney, member of the firm of Larsen & Larsen, about 28 years of age, and leaves a wife and one child. Turner is a brother-in-law and has been studying law in Larsen's office.

No announcement has been made of funeral arrangements yet.

Mr. Larsen, as assistant to his uncle, Colonel W. W. Larsen, secretary to Governor Brown, worked for some time at the capitol and was well known in Atlanta.

WILSON IS GOING SLOW ABOUT RESERVE BOARD

Washington, January 15.—President Wilson today outlined the status of a number of the problems before him. He announced that he probably would utilize the full sixty-day period allotted by law before making final selections for the federal reserve board and would proceed slowly and carefully. He made it clear that he regards the task ahead of him as one equally as important as constituting a whole supreme court of the United States. He intends to canvas the field thoroughly, giving attention to geographical considerations, but not through any hard and fast division.

The president will not insist that anti-trust legislation be given precedence in congress over rural credits or vice versa, but is disposed to leave them to parliamentary procedure, hoping both will be accomplished at the present session. The president will not object to the primary idea outlined in his annual message going over until the December session, believing bills should be drawn that are universally satisfactory.

Mr. Wilson would like to see congress adjourned by June with the trust question and rural credits disposed of, but is not sure that congress can complete its work by then. No time as yet has been set for the reading of the president's address on the trust question, but it is likely to be next Tuesday. The president will confer with leaders in trust reform before giving his message to the printer. He does not believe the trust question can be covered in a single bill, but expects at least two or three measures. The president had pointed out to the congressional committees the necessity for allowing either one or two years for big business to conform to the new laws.

Another essential in the trust program emphasized today is the determination of the president and his advisers to make proposed interstate trade commission an auxiliary not only to the courts in carrying out decrees, but an actual assistant to big business itself. Under no circumstances would the commission fix prices or exercise any powers of regulations, but, besides acting as a bureau of information for business, it might be given the function of mediation in encouraging reorganizations in conformity with new laws.

CITY OFFICIALS ASK FOR CUT IN SALARY AND SHOCK MAYOR

New York, January 15.—Three city employees surprised Mayor Mitchel today by applying for a reduction in salary. They are John R. Freeman, William H. Burt and Alfred H. Noble, each a consulting engineer to the board of water supply. The engineers suggested that their salaries be fixed at $3,000 a year each instead of $6,000 as at present.

They explained that with the completion of the Catskill aqueduct the board needed their services not more than half the time they previously had devoted to city work. The board passed along the request to the board of estimate with the suggestion that it be adopted.

"WITHIN THE LAW" MORE POPULAR ON SECOND TRIP HERE

The return of the sensational drama, "Within the Law," was marked last night by an improved company, a large house and a vociferous reception of the efforts of the actors.

The performance distinctly shows much rehearsal. Many of the small crudities displayed here when the production was shown during the holidays have entirely disappeared and in their places cleverer work is now exhibited as well as much more attention to technical detail.

"Within the Law" will be here Friday and Saturday, with a matinee Saturday afternoon.

NASHVILLE FACTIONS REACH AN AGREEMENT

Nashville, Tenn., January 15.—An understanding has been reached between the factions of the Nashville Baseball club, according to a statement made tonight by Clyde Shropshire, heretofore leader of the anti-Hirsig faction and rival claimant for the presidency of the club.

"It looks as if Mr. Hirsig has gained control and all we can do is to submit," he said. "We will pull together to give Nashville a winning club this year."

Mrs. Wilcox Gets Boy.

Gulfport, Miss., January 15.—When R. G. Wilcox, of Mobile, consented to the return of his young son to Mrs. Wilcox late today she withdrew habeas corpus proceedings instituted last night. The suit followed the recent fight of Wilcox, with the boy, in an automobile and their apprehension here yesterday. The principals in the case returned to Mobile tonight.

WILL TELL PUBLIC VALUE OF BONDS

need improvements, and if we don't start now our condition will be terrible in three years.

"The condition in our schools is the same as our hospitals and sewer system. Parts of the city are now badly in need of trunk sewers to protect life.

"In some instances the buyer, builder and developer has had such congfidence in our city that millions have been spent alongside of our open sewer creeks, confident that the city—the good city of Atlanta—will at the proper time take care of the needs, and it is time we were caring for their wants.

"The congestion of city life is coming upon us rapidly and with it comes the need of park facilities for the women and children and for the stranger. Men who could see ahead have provided the acreage for parks, but most of this land is rough, unkempt, undeveloped and unsafe and unpoliced and not fit for our people.

Relieve Congested Streets.

"With congestion, we dirty our streets and produce more garbage, and today our sanitary department has not adequate modern machinery and equipment for the proper care of our streets. Soon our city must take over the alleys in our city and care for them and improve them, which means more money needed.

"The money now derived from the city because of our present size and tremendous growth is just about enough for upkeep and in no way capable of extensive improvements.

"There should be all improvements on all streets in the city of Atlanta.

"There will be 20,000,000 more people in the Atlanta regional bank district in the next ten years. Atlanta of necessity will have a tenfold greater duty to this section. We are now at the threshold of opportunity; the city has done great things, but the greatest are yet to come.

"A Mr. Inman once said to some Atlantans that it was harder to keep wealth than to make it, and Atlanta will find it harder to keep success than to attain it if we are slothful in our city building, in preparing our public buildings, schools, sewers, streets, parks, fire department, police, teachers, waterworks and water supply.

The City's Business.

"It is not right to put the burden of city building upon the individual. It is the corporation's business to take care of all these things, and the only method is to borrow money; the only way prescribed by law and good business methods is bonds, so let us have some bonds.

"There is no feeling that James G. Woodward is unbusiness-like in saving the city's money; in fact, 'Uncle' Jim has our confidence along that line, and is the proper man to watch the spending of great amounts, and while I have heard it said it was against his policy to issue bonds, I want to say that the people who know, know that we need bonds, money and improvements, so the people will have to insist upon the bonds, money and improvements, and then vote to keep the old 'Watch Dog' on the job, for we know he will do his duty.

"Mr. Humphrey says $5,000,000 is needed. Many streets will, of necessity, be regraded, viaducts must be built. There are a dozen places in the city today where underpasses or bridges are needed, but the people haven't the nerve to ask for them because of the 'pinchy' policy that must be pursued by the city officials in order after a fashion to care for the most pressing needs.

"Atlanta and the 'Atlanta Spirit' are no small matters to reckon with. Atlanta has great men and women and greater opportunities and they are going to do things, and the city corporation and government must keep and do its part, so let us bond the city to the limit.

Manufacturies Want to Come.

"I know of two manufacturing concerns that are now looking to Atlanta for their future homes. Each of them must have 300 acres of ground; will have a pay roll of $60,000 each week; each will bring 5,000 people to Atlanta and each concern must have 1,000 five-room houses with modern conveniences; that is, light, water and sewer, and the city must make these improvements.

"In twenty-five years all the finest mills, spindles and weaving of cotton will be in the south. Cheap water power and being in the district of the raw product will move the cotton factories of the east to us. They will come to us when the mills of the east are worn out and must be rebuilt, and they will rebuild in the cotton patch, for we are getting cities, railroads, interurbans, cheap power and food stuffs to care for their every need. Our climate is very delightful, which is also in our favor.

"Those of us who do not think as above should get from 500 to 2,000 miles from home and see what the world thinks of Atlanta and the south.

"Atlanta is the product of the south, and the territory reached by our fourteen great railroad systems. We are the metropolis of the south, and we owe a greater duty to our section than we can learn or realize by staying at home."

united today in requesting the organization committee of the federal reserve banks to locate a reserve bank in Richmond, Va. A delegation of bankers from Wheeling, W. Va., headed by W. B. Irvine, asked that Wheeling be placed in a district with a reserve bank at Pittsburg.

Virginia went on record as being the first state to formally request the location of a reserve bank within her borders. Through State Senator Saunders and Governor Mann, the state legislature presented resolutions asking the committee to locate a bank at Richmond.

Want Georgia in District.

The Richmond bankers and business men suggested that the district with Richmond as the headquarters should consist of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, southern West Virginia, eastern Kentucky and eastern Tennessee. George J. Seay, leading spokesman for Richmond, said that the District of Columbia might be added.

R. G. Rhett, of Charleston, S. C., speaking as chairman of a bankers' delegation of South Carolina, suggested that western Georgia might be excluded because of its borrowing needs from the district, and that Maryland might be added. He said from 60 to 80 per cent of the bankers of his state preferred the location of the reserve bank at Richmond, as compared with Baltimore, and possibly 95 per cent preferred Richmond to Washington.

Secretaries McAdoo and Houston, the committeemen, inquired repeatedly of the speakers if a branch located at Richmond with a reserve bank at either Washington or Baltimore would not be satisfactory.

Unique Conditions Alleged.

Oliver J. Sands, of Richmond, replied in the negative, saying that the tobacco, cotton and peanut interests of the district mapped out were so unique to those states that directors from other states with headquarters outside the proposed district would not properly understand the granting of credit in the district.

John T. Brute, of Wilson, N. C., protested against connecting North Carolina banks with a reserve bank west or south of them. "You will be hitching us up to a dead end," said he.

Others who advocated the selection of Richmond were W. T. Reed, of Richmond, speaking for the tobacco interests centered there; T. M. Carrington, for the Richmond Chamber of Commerce; Dr. S. C. Mitchell, president of the Richmond Medical college, who spoke of the proposed district as already mapped out by mountains and rivers; Joseph G. Brown, of Raleigh, N. C.; George S. Wallace, of Huntington, W. Va.; D. Y. Cooper, of Henderson, N. C., and J. W. Norwood, of Greenville, S. C.

WILSON MAKES APPEAL FOR PEOPLE OF JAPAN

Washington, January 15.—President Wilson, as president of the American Red Cross, late today issued an appeal to the American people for funds to assist the people of Japan, who are suffering not only from the earthquake, but from the failure of crops.

The president's appeal follows:

"Our sister nation of Japan is suffering from two very serious disasters. The failure of crops in the northeastern part of that country has brought hundreds of thousands of persons face to face with the terrible misery of slow starvation, and in the southwestern island of Kyushu, a sudden great volcanic eruption has carried death and desolation to large numbers in a thickly populated district.

"I appeal to the humanity of our American people that they may give expression to their sympathy for the suffering and distress of so many of their fellowmen by generous contributions for their aid. Such contributions can be made to the local Red Cross treasurers or sent directly to the American Red Cross, Washington, D. C."

Red Cross headquarters announced tonight that an appeal had been sent out to all state chapters asking local chapters to gather the funds.

Colonel Robert M. Thompson, chairman of the executive committee of the Navy league of the United States, started a subscription list with $1,250, to which other members of the league and officers of the navy added.

"Instruct Red Cross to draw on 'The Navy,' Southern Building, Washington, D. C., for 2,500 yen. This is sent to sufferers of volcanic eruption by officers and friends of our navy in recognition of the kindness shown our fleet when visiting Japan.

"ROBERT M. THOMPSON."

DEFIANCE TO WILSON IS SHOUTED BY MOON

Washington, January 15.—When the postoffice appropriation bill carrying a total exceeding $300,000,000 was brought up in the house today, Chairman Moon, of the postoffice committee, defended provisions in the measure for exempting assistant postmasters from civil service and the experimental governmental purchase of railway postoffice cars. He decried the claim for penny postage as a project that would substitute a deficit instead of a postal surplus.

Mr. Moon said there still were one or two wooden postoffice cars that the railroads had used for forty-one years. He contended that if the government pays the railroads a rental of $5,000 a year for a railway postal car and the car's life was fifteen years, then the government would be paying in that period $75,000 rental for a car, or a dead loss of $60,000.

He Defends River.

Chairman Moon, in defending the rider to exempt assistant postmasters from civil service, uttered a note of defiance at executive interference with what congress might deem its duty.

While Mr. Moon lauded both the president and Postmaster General Burleson, yet he said the postoffice committee was not "to bow to their will."

"If the law ought to be changed, no admonition from the postmaster general or threat of veto from the president ought to swerve us," declared Mr. Moon. He was referring to a published report of a letter sent in by the president regarding the rider, and he said that if the president vetoed the postoffice bill, the house had its constitutional right to override a veto.

Mr. Moon demanded to know what a spoilsman consisted of, whether a "plunderer" or simply one who belongs to a "victorious and triumphant party, who demands that the party shall have a voice in the administration of the government and that democratic policies and principles shall be executed by democrats."

Only Democrats on Guard.

Suggesting the possibility of overriding a veto of the bill, Mr. Moon said he would have none but democrats on guard in the administration of the government. "If you wanted to make a monarchy of the republic," he added, "all you would have to do would be to apply the civil service to congress, the president and his cabinet."

Representative Moon declared the consular service consisted of republicans covered by the civil service. "No man who is not worth into the millions of dollars can hold a position in one of the great courts of Europe as ambassador or minister," he continued. "Must the leaders of society, with the false glare and glitter of their position, falsely represent the sentiment of the American people?

"Your whole diplomatic corps, in the interest of economy and good government, ought to be abolished—they are of the hous of lords of the United States. They form a distinct class that scarcely pay any regard to senators who vote their confirmation when once they have approached the throne of royalty," he said.

Gen. Louis Wagner Dead.

Philadelphia, January 15.—General Louis Wagner, former commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, died at his home here early today after a brief illness. He was 76 years old. Germany was the birth place of General Wagner. He came to this country with his parents when he was 9 years old. He served in the civil war as a member of a Pennsylvania regiment, and was rapidly promoted, being mustered out as a brevet brigadier general. He was elected head of the Grand Army in 1880.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Judging from the optimistic attitude of the Atlanta real estate agents and the number of important sales and leases, which they have pending, it would appear that the more or less quiet market of Thursday was but the calm before the storm.

It is known that at least three deals have been made on Peachtree street, each aggregating in the neighborhood of $100,000 in its consideration, and that several propositions to bring several big industrial concerns to Atlanta are on the verge of being closed.

Two of the industrial concerns, it is said, will bring with them weekly pay rolls of $60,000, to say nothing of some 5,000 or 6,000 new citizens.

Real Estate Sales.

Arthur M. Reid, of the Martin-Ozburn Realty company, has sold for J. B. King to M. Brown a six-room bungalow on East avenue for $3,500. The size of the lot is 50x150.

Forrest & George Adair have sold for Asa G. Candler to Mrs. M. W. Brittain, a vacant lot on the south side of Edgewood avenue, 105 feet from Yonge street, 25x85, for $5,000, or at a rate of $200 per front foot.

R. L. Turman, of Turman, Black & Calhoun, has sold for Julius Oelser to a client, No. 386 Central avenue, a residence property just south of Georgia avenue, for $3,650.

Rent Men Meet.

At a meeting of the rent men, who were called together in the directors' room of the Charles P. Glover Realty company offices by Eugene S. Kelly, chairman of the rent committee of the Atlanta real estate board, it was made clear that tenants, whose rentals aggregate $3,000 or more, must withhold from these rentals the amount of the income tax. Action was taken looking to the reduction of the cost of dispossessory warrants under the new muncipal court. Agents at this meeting agreed not to "double card" property, except in cases where the agencies are not in the agreement.

HAVE you ever stopped to think that the feed you use has more to do with your success in poultry raising than any other one thing? It is an undisputed fact and the sooner our Southern Poultrymen realize this fact the better success they will have. This applies to the man with a thousand chickens or more, and also to the man that has a few hens in the back yard for home use. By proper feeding a dozen hens should furnish eggs enough the year round for an ordinary family, but you can't get the results by feeding just any old kind of feed. The majority of the grocery stores sell chicken feed at 8 lbs. for 25 cents and usually it is a very inferior grade. We will sell and deliver to you 10 lbs. of Red Comb Feed for 25 cents, and it is the cleanest and best sold on the market. We handle the Red Comb Feeds exclusively and sell them to you at the same price or less than you have been paying for feed that isn't nearly so good. Let us send you out a bag of this feed or a ten-pound package and compare it with what you are using. We deliver promptly to all parts of the city.

THE Cyphers Incubators are better made, easier to operate and safer than any other make of machine. We guarantee a bigger hatch and stronger chickens than from any other machine. We carry these machines in all sizes. Don't buy an Incubator until you investigate the Cyphers.

HASTINGS' 1914 catalogue now ready. Be sure and ask for copy.

CAPITOLA chicken feed, made by Atlanta Milling Co., from high-grade wheat, corn and oats. An honest feed, made exclusively from high-grade grain. No grit, weed seed or other worthless stuff. Write for sample.

REDUCED RATES SHOWN BY BUREAU

Members of Atlanta Freight Bureau See More Prosperity Following Lowering of Freight Rates.

The reports rendered at the twelfth annual meeting and dinner of the Atlanta freight bureau at the Piedmont hotel last night proved a revelation in the advantageous reduction of freight and express rates to Atlanta and in the abolition of discriminatory rates between southern points.

The remarkable reduction of freight rates to Atlanta from eastern and western points, and the enforced discontinuation of the grain rebilling discrimination in the case of Nashville as against Atlanta were made clear in the report of Chairman W. A. Parker. Mr. Parker also produced statistics showing the increase of prosperity in Atlanta and Georgia in the last several years.

As for the reduction in express rates, J. B. Hockaday, of the Southern Express company, pointed out that whereas the Atlanta freight bureau was fighting several years ago for a reduction in express rates from New York city, and was willing at one time to compromise for a flat rate of $3.50 per hundred pounds, which would undoubtedly have sooner or later been granted, Atlanta now gets a rate or $3.05 per hundred pounds, by the decision of the interstate commerce commission.

Reduction on Shipments.

"This means," said Mr. Hockaday, "a reduction of 25 per cent for shipments of 100 pounds and in excess thereof. And, under the table of rates from 1 to 100 pounds, each package having a distinctive rating according to weight, in some instances the charge is 50 per cent less. Under the present rate a 10-pound package to New York is $1; under the new rates it will be 48 cents.

"The position of the express companies," he continued, "and their use by the public is well stated in an editorial appearing in The Atlanta Constitution Tuesday last. In the local columns of that newspaper will be found comparative interstate rates between Atlanta and numerous points."

Bolling H. Jones, postmaster of Atlanta, urged the co-operation of the membership of the bureau in his work by getting their mails to the offices as early as possible. He stated that between the hours of 6 and 10 o'clock in the evening the mail coming into the Atlanta office from the city amounted to about 70,000 letters per hour. Many of these, he said, often got into the office too late to catch the mails for which their writers intended them.

"Get your mails in early," he said, "and I will certainly deliver them to their destinations."

Mayor James G. Woodward and Attorney Edgar Watkins were among the speakers.

The former officers and directors of the bureau were re-elected.

Chairman's Report.

Chairman Parker's report in part is as follows:

"Using New York as a representative point from the east and Chicago from the west, as a result of the work of the bureau, the reduction in cents per pound and percentage reductions are as follows:

From New York and Chicago.

"Five pounds, old rate 70 cents, new rate 34 cents; reduction 36 cents, or 51 to 54 per cent.

"Ten pounds, old rate $1, new rate 48 cents; reduction 52 cents, or 52 to 56 per cent.

"Twenty pounds, old rate $1.25, new rate 77 cents; reduction 68 cents, or 38 to 45 per cent.

"Fifty pounds, old rate $2, new rate $1.62; reduction 38 cents, or 19 to 26 per cent.

"One hundred pounds, old rate $4, new rate $3.05; reduction 95 cents, or 24 to 30 per cent.

"It is estimated that the new rates will result in a saving on Atlanta business approximately $40,000 per annum.

"In the grain rebilling case of Nashville as discriminating against Atlanta we are looking for an early, and we trust a favorable, decision. If our contentions are sustained it will mean that large sums of money will be invested in grain elevators and employment of several hundred men and will place our wholesale grain dealers on a parity with competing markets.

"Eastern and western cases involve the reasonableness of class and commodity rates from north Atlantic ports, interior eastern cities and Ohio river crossings and points north and west thereof.

"We have asked the interstate commerce commission to establish no higher rates to Atlanta than obtain from Cincinnati to Birmingham from north Atlantic ports and interior eastern points all rail, and no rate and rail no higher than Nashville, Knoxville or Chattanooga.

"If our prayer is granted, and we firmly believe it will be, the reduction to Atlanta will approximate $250,000 per annum.

"The distance from Cincinnati to Birmingham is 481 miles, the first-class rate is 89 cents; the distance to Atlanta is 474 miles, the first-class rate is 98 cents per hundred pounds, a difference of 9 cents against Atlanta.

"New York to Nashville, the constructive distance sea and rail is 799 miles, first-class rate 91 cents. New York to Atlanta 510 miles, first-class rate $1.05, a difference of 14 cents in favor of Nashville.

"The cost of service to Atlanta is no greater than to points named; indeed, it is substantially less than to Birmingham or Nashville. Therefore if some of the business that has been moving to points named was transferred to Atlanta it cannot be said that an order to remove unjust discrimination between localities which results in reductions in rates to the injured city means a reduction in net revenues of the carriers.

Were Being Overcharged.

"We have for a long time urged the carriers to readjust their rates from Atlanta to North Carolina points in line with those from Nashville. We are glad to state, effective December 29, 1913, commodity rates of some of the leading articles manufactured in Atlanta to a large territory in North Carolina were published observing the Nashville rates as maxima.

"After a thorough investigation our board of directors was of the opinion that members were being overcharged on inbound shipments and the traffic manager was directed to make a test, and after a fair trial we find this was true.

"We have collected from carriers and turned over to our members about $4,000 in overcharges that were assessed in excess of the legal rate.

"Our directors have arranged, effective today, to audit freight bills to all of our members gratis. The association will audit members' freight and express bills, file all claims and have arranged that all payments be made claimants direct.

"To illustrate the general prosperity of the south, your attention is called to the following figures:

"For November, 1913, the net operating revenue for the country as a whole fell from $416 to $344 per mile. In the eastern district it fell from $601 to $424. For the southern it rase from $279 to $292 and for the western it fell from $274 to $323.

"For the first five months of the current fiscal year the reports show that: The net operating revenue for the country as a whole fell from $2,164 per mile to $1,933, a loss of $231. For the eastern district it fell from $3,481 to $2,867, a loss of $614 per mile. For the southern district it rose from $1,297 to $1,342, a gain of $27 per mile. For the western district it fell from $1,897 to $1,743, a loss of $154.

South's Wealth Growing.

"The foregoing figures would indicate that eastern and western districts have about reached the crest of the wave, while the wealth, production and tonnage of the southern district is growing by leaps and bounds.

"Manufacturers Georgia Census 1910—1899—capital employed, $79,303,000; 1909, $202,778,000. 1899—Value of products, $94,532,000; 1909, $202,862,000. 1899—Value added by manufacture, $45,176,000; 1909, $85,892,000.

"Georgia—1899, value of all crops, $87,345,343; 1909, $226,959,436; increase, $140,250,093; percentage increase, 262.4 per cent.

"In the March number of The Manufacturers' Record it is stated: 'The south's cotton crops, including seed, in thirty-three years' value was $16,453,000,000. World's production in gold and silver in thirty-three years, $11,094,015,242. Acress of cotton value over gold and silver value in thirty-three years, $5,357,984,758.

INDUCTION METHOD WAS USED TO TAP WIRE OF A BROKER

Los Angeles, Cal., January 15.—H. V. Warnock, telegraph operator of an alleged bucket shop, was convicted by a jury in superior court today of having tapped a broker's leased wire by induction. According to the prosecutor the case is the first on record in which a wire-tapper obtained results without actually tapping wires.

Warnock was alleged to haxe obtained a telephone wire contained in the same cable with the broker's high tension telegraph wire. He listened in a telephone receiver to the dots and dashes transferred by induction into the nearby telephone circuit.

By this means Warnock, it was charged, obtained access to stock quotations and other information carried over the broker's leased telegraph wire from New York.

THOMASVILLE ATTORNEY STICKING TO HIS GUNS

Thomasville, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—City Attorney T. N. Hopkins, whose resignation was returned recently by the city council with the suggestion that it be couched in more courteous language does not think that the tone of it was discourteous and is not inclined to make any change in its wording. Colonel Hopkins stands by his guns and still claims that the administration was not doing its full duty in regard to the investigation of blind tigers, etc. He also states that the fees claimed by him were for work he had done and for which the city justly owed him. Colonel Hopkins has served as city attorney for several terms and his present term expires next month. No further action has been taken in the matter of the resignation.

MILITIA PAY MEASURE APPROVED BY GUARD

Washington, January 15.—Adjutant generals of the national guard of thirty states concluded their convention here tonight by issuing a statement approving the proposed militia pay bill on which they agreed with Secretary Garrison yesterday.

"The final step has been taken for the first time in the history of the country," said the statement, "by which the national guard, which now numbers 120,000 officers and men, is made immediately available in time of war for service within or without the territory of the United States. It means the national guard from the moment of the passage of this law are available without mustering or physical examination or any other step except the call of the president.

"The law further provides such a degree of federal control over the national guard as shall make it genuinely efficient for war service. A provision for allowances to officers and men to compensate them for time devoted to training in time of peace is contained in the bill. There is also adequate provision for arms, uniforms and equipment, and for detail of officers and men of the regular army."

It is expected that the militia bill will go to congress as an administration measure.

The prisoner was taken into custody by Policemen Boyce and Blackstone. He gave the name of Henry Davis, colored, aged 25, and his residence as 83 Haynes street. He will be arraigned Friday before Recorder Broyles.

It was shortly after 9 o'clock that Mr. Carter, sitting in the library of his home, heard suspicious sounds coming from the rear of the house. Getting his pistol he stole to the back porch, where he found the burglar endeavoring to open a window.

"Throw up your hands," commanded the attorney, who then called his wife to telephone the police.

RURAL CREDITS BACKED BY THE COMMISSION MEN

Jacksonville, Fla., January 15.—That agriculturists of the United States are "entitled to greater relief" and that the National League of Commission Merchants of the United States put itself unqualifiedly on record as favoring some form or system of rural credits, was the main issue of the twenty-second annual meeting of the body here today.

At the same session a memorial was sent to the interstate commerce commission in reference to freight service and distribution from Chicago. The National league implores the commission to have re-established the old-time freight service from Chicago to the north, northwest and western tributary markets.

It was brought out at the convention today that the distribution of fruits from the growing sections is at the present time delayed a whole day or so at Chicago.

That the economic ideas of United States Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida, are appreciated by the men who handle the products of the farmers all over the United States is brought out in the resolution adopted to rural credits. Senator Fletcher was one of the principal speakers at the Wednesday session of the convention.

SUFFRAGE PARTY NOW TO BE INCORPORATED

The woman's suffrage party, organization of which has been in contemplation by leading Georgia suffragists for several months, is now a reality. The work of organization was completed in Atlanta today and the party is to be incorporated under the laws of the state of Georgia, a petition for charter being sent the superior court Thursday. The petitioners are Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, Mrs. Amelia Woodall and Miss Katherine Koch.

The party will be distinguished from all suffrage associations in that it will be open to all and no dues will be charged, as the party will be supported by subscriptions.

It is stated in the charter that headquarters of the party are to be located in Atlanta, and branches established in other counties designated by the directors.

BAN PUT ON TANGO BY ROMAN CHURCH

Rome, January 15.—Cardinal Basilio Pompili, vicar general of Rome, representing the pontiff, has issued a pastoral letter denouncing the tango and also certain newspapers, theatrical performances and fashions, which, he declares, are perverting souls. The cardinal says:

The clergy are urged to raise their voices in defending "the sanity of Christian usages against the dangers threatening and the overwhelming immorality of the new paganism."

Parents are warned that if they do not protect their children from corruption they will be guilty before God of failure in their most sacred duties.

GEORGIAN PASSES DIPLOMATIC TEST

Washington, January 15.—Ten out of thirty-seven candiates for admission to the diplomatic service of the United States passed the recent entrance examination. Their names will be placed on the list of eligibles, to receive appointments as vacancies occur.

The successful candidates were:

OVER 100 LIVES SAVED BY SALVATION ARMY

Chicago, January 15.—More than 100 would-be suicides in Chicago have been dissuaded from ending their lives by the anti-suicide bureau of the Salvation Army, according to a report made public today by Colonel Addie, who is in charge of the work. The bureau, the first of its kind in this country, was organized three months ago.

To Regulate Stock Exchanges.

Washington, January 15.—After a conference today with President Wilson, Senator Owen said hearings would be begun February 4 on bills for regulating stock exchanges. "I wish to make it clear," said Senator Owen, "that we will approach the subject in a spirt of friendliness and that we desire merely to correct stock exchange abuses by prohibitng the use of the mail or telegraph for promotion of fraudulent transactions."

PEOPLE SEE WATER CRUSH THEIR HOMES

A wall of water, starting from the broken dam of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company, on Stoney creek, moved down to the Potomac, inundated the town of Schell, W. Va., where the two streams meet, and started a flood wave, laden with wreckage and ice, down the Potomac valley.

Warnings of the approaching flood sent the residents of small towns along the river scurrying to safety in the hills, where tonight from vantage points they peered through the darkness in an icy gale toward the swollen waters below.

Rumors of Casualties.

Telegraph and telephone communication was cut off by the flood during the day, but was re-established tonight. Rumors of several men caught in the flood at Shaw, W. Va., twenty miles from Schell, which could not be confirmed, were the only reports of casualties attending the flood.

The flood warning emptied the town of Shaw and sent many residents of Blaine, Harrison, Kitzmiller and other small places hurrying to the ridges. Fear that the waters might rise still further prevented many refugees from returning to their homes, even in towns where little damage was done.

The flood wave apparently expended its energy in a mad twenty-mile dash down the valley of the Stoney creek from the burst dam to Schell. This valley, however, was virtually uninhabited. It was owned by the West Virgina Pulp and Paper company as a right of way and watershed.

Dam Began to Crumble.

The big dam, which impounded a lake of water five miles long, and which was sixty-five feet high, had been weakening for several days. Last night it began to crumble, and a farmer from the mountain village of Mount Storm rode down the valley warning the few inhabitants of the impending break. A part of the big structure gave way early today and at noon the sweeping waters carried away the greater part of the face of the dam. The released weight of water in a wall-like wave swept down to Schell. There the roadbed of the Western Maryland railroad was washed out, and traffic on the road was tied up.

Below Schell the rushing water joined the Potomac river, and for seventy miles the gradually diminishing wall of water rolled on, increasing the height of the river by from three feet to eight feet in its seventy-mile course between Schell and Cumberland.

Fearful lest the mass of wreckage pile up and pen the rushing waters, the authorities and railroad officials tonight dynamited several small bridges in the valley which threatened to jam the rush.

Ridges Dotted With Campfires.

Tonight ridges along both sides of the rushing torrent for seventy miles from the deluged town of Schell to this city were dotted with campfires and lanterns of refugees and miners and lumbermen from the hills. Late in the night the re-established telegraph line from Schell brought the reassuring news that the water was subsiding, but refugees still clung to temporary shacks and shelters above the flood.

All along the valley the officials took the utmost precautions to prevent the rising water with its burden of ice and wreckage from being jammed. Some fear was felt because of a wooden dam at Beryl, W. Va., where the Savage river flows into the Potomac. The West Virginia Paper and Pulp company, which has a plant covering forty acres at this point, put 1,000 men at work to strengthen the dam. The ice in the Potomac river at Cumberland was dynamited tonight in order to give the flood a free channel.

Officials here tonight estimated that property along the path of the flood had been damaged to the extent of about $200,000. To this was added thousands of dollars' worth of logs carried away by the water.

Hundreds Watch Flow.

As the flood continued down the river hundreds gathered on the river bank to watch the swollen stream at the lower towns of Piedmont and Beryl, W. Va., and Luke and Western Port, Md. No damage was done at these towns, the river keeping within its banks. Train loads of curious persons from Cumberland went up the river to view the flood scene, when it became apparent the danger was passed. The wooden dam at Beryl was intact when the waters began to recede.

The Western Maryland railroad sent two work trains tonight to repair the damage done all along the line of its West Virginia division. General Manager A. R. Merrick, with a staff of officials, went to the upper valley to take charge of the work.

Engineer Can Give No Reason.

Morgantown, W. Va., January 15.—Harry Muldoon, of this city, who was assistant engineer of construction of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company's dam at Dobbin, told tonight the dam had given away, said he could give no reason for the sudden breakage. Muldoon said the dam was finished last August after sixteen months spent in construction. Harry Bayles, also of Morgantown, who was engineer-in-charge, is in the south.

Mrs. Twyman Denies That She Ran Away; Carter Girl to Return

Pretty Myron Carter, the girl runaway who left home Tuesday night, has been detained by the police of Seneca, S. C., from which place she will be returned some time today by members of her family.

Her companion, Mrs. Alberta Twyman, of 266 East Fair street, returned Thursday morning, denying the rumor that she had run away from home. She and the Carter girl, she declared to a reporter for The Constitution last night, had gone into the Carolinas on business for a publishing house with which they were connected.

Mrs. Twyman stated that her husband and members of her family were aware of her journey, and that she intended returning home on the date she arrived from Seneca. She also declared that she and Miss Carter had not stopped in Atlanta Tuesday night and that neither had they gone away with intentions of going on the stage.

MRS. S. WEIR MITCHELL FOLLOWS HER HUSBAND

Philadelphia, January 15.—Mrs. S. Weir Mitchell died today of penumonia. She became ill after the funeral of her late husband last week. Mrs. Mitchell, who was 77, was Mary Cadwallader, member of a famous Philadelphia family.

Col. M. L. Costley Dead.

New Orleans, January 15.—Colonel M. L. Costley, aged 74, adjutant general and chief of staff of the Louisiana division, United Confederate Veterans, died of heart trouble here today. He was stricken while at the bedside of the late General T. W. Castleman, who died here Sunday. Colonel Costley was one of the most widely known confederate veterans in the gulf states.

HALL, SAFE FROM DEATH, THANKFUL TO OFFICIALS

Condemned Slayer Thought He Heard Wife Weeping and Suffered Collapse.

Tifton, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—When Turnkey Butler told I. B. Hall, under sentence to die on the gallows tomorrow, that Governor Slaton had commuted his sentence to life imprisonment, Mr. Hall appeared dazed. Later he rallied and expressed his gratitude to his attorneys and friends for their efforts in his behalf and to the officials who had passed upon his case. He says he is ready, without any formal papers, to go anywhere he is told and begin working out his long sentence.

About 11:30 o'clock Mr. Hall suffered a nervous collapse, the first visible evidence of the long mental strain he has undergone. He heard the negro cook singing in the kitchen and mistook the sound for his wife weeping. Assured that the worst had come, he was for nearly two hours a nervous wreck.

A peculiar thing about his case is that he has apparently never realized the enormity of his crime or the weight of public sentiment against him. All along he has contended that he was fully justified in the killing and his actions show that he believed it. He was growing depressed before the decision of the prison commission Monday, but revived and was sanguine until yesterday, when he again grew anxious.

WOMAN PLEADS GUILTY TO DROWNING CHILDREN

Nashville, Tenn., January 15.—Mrs. Hennie Yates, charged with drowning two little stepchildren in Obion county last summer, at Union City, today pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree and accepted a prison sentence of 10 to 20 years.

Her daughter, by a previous marriage, Floy Ferris, a child, charged with participating, was released on the promise of her relatives to take her to Kentucky.

It was alleged that Mrs. Yates carried her three stepchildren berry hunting and, inducing them to go in bathing in a creek, seized two and held their heads under water till they drowned. The third stepchild, a little boy, escaped and gave the alarm. Counsel for Mrs. Yates at first contemplated entering a plea of insanity.

TOWN IS IN TROUBLE BECAUSE OF ITS SHAPE

Salem, Ore., January 15.—The peculiar shape of West Woodburn, Marion county, Oregon, has got the town into trouble.

It was announced today that suit had been started by the district attorney at the instance of Governor Oswald West to have its incorporation declared void. The governor insists that the appearance of the town on the map, which he likened to a comet with a tail, is caused by a desire to have liquors sold within its borders and that is the sole purpose of the incorporation.

Miss Fern Hobbs, the governor's secretary, who made an investigation, reported that in places the town was less than a third of a mile wide, and thus constructed to exclude the homes of persons favoring prohibition.

AMERICUS IS VISITED BY CENTRAL OFFICIALS

Americus, Ga., January 15.—(Special.) A special train carrying prominent officials of the Central railway reached Americus this afternoon over the Seaboard en route to Birmingham. Included in the party were Vice Presidents Winburn and Lawton and President Pleasants, of the Ocean Steamship company, besides a half dozen others. Prominent citizens of Americus met the railway officials and tendered them an automobile drive of an hour. The special train proceeded at 5 o'clock to Birmingham.

WM. DENNIS ALSO DIES FROM MADMAN'S BULLET

Augusta, Ga., January 15.—William Dennis, the 17-year-old chauffeur who was shot by Samuel J. Norris, the Augusta saloon keeper yesterday afternoon, when the latter also shot and killed his wife, died at the hospital at an early hour this morning. Dennis was shot through the body.

Norris, who has been drinking heavily for the past few weeks, still refused to talk and appears not to realize what he has done. Norris was formerly an inmate of the state asylum for the insane.

STEAMER CHAPPELL DAMAGED BY FIRE

Savannah, Ga., January 15.—The river steamer Chappell, while tied up at Mobleys wharf, on the Ocmulgee river, Friday night of last week, caught fire and came near being destroyed. Hard work of the captain and crew saved the vessel. The Chappell arrived last night from Hawkinsville to enter the Savannah river service between Savannah and Augusta. It will be repaired here. The loss by fire was several hundred dollars.

$25,000,000 ROAD BILL REPORTED TO HOUSE

Washington, January 15.—A general compromise bill, providing for a maximum of $25,000,000 for roads to be distributed among states that contribute amounts equal to government allotments, was reported to the house today. There will be $60 a mile for macadam, $30 for gravel, sand and similar highways and $15 for dirt roads.

PROSPERITY IN SOUTH CELEBRATED AT BANQUET

Memphis, Tenn., January 15.—Prosperity in the south, as it is spelled by bumper cotton crops, grain crops, cattle production and general business conditions that as a whole excel any other section of the country, was celebrated here tonight at a banquet given by the Business Men's club, of this city. More than 400 guests, including some of the most prominent men in the country, many of them coming in special trains of private cars, were in attendance. Officials of railroads in this territory predominated among the out-of-town guests.

The railroads' interest in prosperity was discussed by R. F. Bush, St. Louis, president of the Missouri Pacific railroad. Other speakers and their subjects included U. R. Dawes, Chicago, vice president of the Central Trust company, on "Cotton Warehouse Receipts as Collateral;" James Keeley, general manager of The Chicago Tribune, on "Real Civic Spirit;" H. E. W. Palmer, Atlanta, general counsel of the Cumberland Telegraph and Telephone company, "For Memphis;" Blewatt Lee, Chicago, general counsel for the Illinois Central railroad, "Belated Punishment of Railroads;" Max Sondheimer, Memphis, "Prospertity's Synonym—Lumber," and C. P. J. Mooney, managing editor of The Commercial Appeal, Memphis, "Progressive Memphis."

Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern railway, was to have been one of the speakers, but because of the sudden death in New today of Richard D. Lankford, a vice president of the road, he did not attend. A number of other Southern railway officials also sent their regrets.

Senators and representatives from Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas who had planned to be present, were prevented from attending by imperative demands for their presence at Washington this week when congress reconvened after the Christmas holidays. A letter from President Wilson expressing his regret at being unable to attend was read by the toastmaster, General Luke E. Wright.

Cotton Warehouse Receipts.

Mr. Dawes said there were two principal questions to be considered in connection with cotton warehouse receipts. The first was concerned with the legality of issue and the second with what may be termed commercial or business risk.

Mr. Dawes said the Tennessee law was a good example of an effort to make a uniform warehouse law and to provide for the negotiability of warehouse receipts and to define the rights of their holders. He thought the cotton factor, having advanced the value of the cotton from 85 per cent to 95 per cent by the time it came into his hands, virtually was in a position to give good title, and therefore had a right to deposit cotton in a warehouse and receive therefor a receipt in his name that he could negotiate.

Such a receipt in order to be available for business purposes, however, must be issued by a responsible warehouse company, under proper control. As cotton is a product in active demand, in almost universal use and readily convertible into cash, loans made on good warehouse receipts covering cotton with proper margin, constituted one of the safest forms of banking investment, Mr. Dawes concluded.

NEGRO SLAYER GETS NEW LEASE ON LIFE

Acting in response to a telegraphic request from the solicitor general of the circuit, Governor Slaton late Thursday afternoon granted a respite in the case of George Smith, the negro murderer who was to have been hanged in Valdosta today. The negro is given a new lease of life until Feburary 6, in order that the prison commission may pass upon his application for a commutation of sentence.

HARDY CALLS MEETING TO FIX PIKE PRIMARY

Barnesville, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—B. H. Hardy, chairman, has called a meeting of the democratic executive committee of Pike county for next Tuesday, January 20, at Zebulon, at which time a date and rules will be fixed for the primary to nominate county officers. It is quite likely that an early primary will be held, as it appears to be the desire of the people to have it over before the busy farming season begins and before the state campaign opens.

The county primary in 1912 was held on March 26. There is already talk of an active campaign for the various offices and there promises to be a spirited contest between most of the present incumbents and those who want to try their hand at officeholding.

Ice Plant for Eastman.

Eastman, Ga., January 15.—(Special.) William E. Davidson, Eastman's enterprising electric light propreitor, has contracted for a twelve-ton machine for the purpose of supplying the city and adjacent territory with ice. Mr. Davidson will run the ice plant in connection with his light plant. Work will begin in the course of the next few weeks.

East Lake Road

Near the residence of Mr. W. T. Gentry, a tract of 11 acres with nearly 500 feet frontage on paved road; only three blocks from the East Lake Club grounds. This unequaled home site has a frontage of over 800 feet on Boulevard DeKalb, which is itself an important thoroughfare, with improvements under way that will make it a good connection between Atlanta and the East Lake section. We know of nothing in the way of a country home tract that can equal this property. Price, $16,000; on reasonable terms.
